WORD FORMATION

What is word formation?

Word formation is the process by which new words are formed by adding an affix, another word or converting from one word class to another by removing and adding alphabets.

What are the four types of word formation?

The four types of word formation include:

- ☐ Addition of prefix----- Practical – impractical
- ☐ Addition of suffix -----Purpose – purposeful
- ☐ Conversion from one word class to another----- Silent – silence
- ☐ Forming compound words -----Dining + room – Dining room
- ☐ Degrees of comparison-----Small – smaller – smallest

Adding Prefixes

The term 'prefix' refers to one or more alphabets added to the stem of a word, mostly to make it negative. The most commonly used prefixes include 'in-', 'un-', 'dis-', 'im-', 'ir-', etc. Look at the examples given below for a clearer understanding of how prefixes are used to form new words. Examples of Word Formation by the Addition of Prefixes

- | | | |
|--|--|--|
| ☐ Discipline – indiscipline | ☐ Comfort – discomfort | ☐ Practical – impractical |
| ☐ Just – unjust | ☐ Responsible – irresponsible | ☐ Important – unimportant |
| ☐ Tidy – untidy | ☐ Honest – dishonest | ☐ Legal – illegal |
| ☐ Respect – disrespect | ☐ Happy – unhappy | ☐ Ethical – unethical |
| ☐ Understand – misunderstand | ☐ Polite – impolite | ☐ Potent – impotent |
| ☐ Comfortable – uncomfortable | ☐ Experience – inexperience | |

Adding Suffixes

A suffix is a short syllable added at the end of a base word. The addition of suffixes usually changes the word class of the particular word. The most common suffixes include '-ment', '-ness', '-ity', '-ous', '-tion', '-sion', '-al', '-able', '-ible', '-ive', '-ly', '-ate', '-er', '-or', etc. Check out the following examples to see how suffixes are added.

Examples of Word Formation by the Addition of Suffixes

- | | |
|--|--|
| ☐ Comprehend (verb) – comprehension (noun) – comprehensible (adjective) | ☐ Conserve (verb) – conservation (noun) |
| ☐ Inform (verb) – information (noun) – informative (adjective) | ☐ Wide (Adjective) – widen (verb) |
| ☐ Invest (verb) – Investment (noun) – Investor (noun) | ☐ Manage (verb) – manageable (adjective) – manager (noun) |
| ☐ Write (verb) – writer (noun) | ☐ Courage (noun) – courageous (adjective) |
| ☐ Authorise (verb) – authorisation (noun) | ☐ Brave (adjective) – bravery (noun) |
| ☐ Move (verb) – movement (noun) | ☐ Profit (noun) – profitable (adjective) |
| ☐ Add (verb) – addition (noun) | ☐ Quick (adjective) – quickly (adverb) |
| ☐ Happy (adjective) – happiness (noun) | ☐ Happy (adjective) – happily (adverb) |
| | ☐ Sad (adjective) – sadness (noun) |

Conversion

The process of conversion focuses solely on changing the word class of the particular word. If you have noticed, you would have seen how some nouns are used to perform the role of a verb or an adjective acting like a noun just by the addition of another word or slightly altering the spelling of the actual word. Examples of Word Formation by Conversion

- ☐ The rich should help the poor.

Adjectives such as 'rich' and 'poor' are used as nouns by using them with the article 'the'.

- ☐ Everyone is talented.

'Talented' – a past participle is used as an adjective in the above sentence. The word is formed by adding the suffix 'ed' to the end of the noun 'talent'.

- ☐ There will definitely be a lot of ups and downs in life.

Prepositions 'up' and 'down' are used as nouns by adding 's' to the end of it.

- ☐ He texted me about the meeting only at the last minute.

The noun 'text' used to refer to a text message sent on a phone is used as a verb in the sentence by adding an 'ed' to the end of the word.

- ☐ The financial aid had to be approved before we could make a decision.

The noun 'finance' is used as an adjective by adding 'ial' to the end of it and the verb 'decide' is used as a noun by removing 'de' and adding 'sion' to the word.

Forming Compound Words

Compound words are formed by combining one part of speech with another to form a specific word class. There are many ways in which compound words are formed. Verbs are combined with adjectives to form compound verbs, a present participle is combined with a noun to form a compound noun, two nouns are combined to form a compound noun, an adjective and a noun are combined to form a compound noun, an adverb is combined with a noun to form a compound noun, an adjective is combined with a past participle to form a compound adjective and so on. Take a look at the following examples and go through the articles on compound nouns, compound words and compound adjectives to understand how they work. Examples of Word Formation by Compounding

- | | |
|--|---|
| ☐ Over (adverb) + load (noun) – Overload | ☐ Break (verb) + Down (preposition) – Breakdown |
| ☐ White (adjective) + wash (verb) – Whitewash | ☐ Up(preposition) + town (noun)– Uptown |
| ☐ Black (adjective) + board (noun)– Blackboard | ☐ Copy(verb) + writer (noun) – Copywriter |
| ☐ Cup (noun) + board (noun) – Cupboard | ☐ Sun (noun) + rise (verb) – Sunrise |
| ☐ Short (adjective) + hand (noun) – Shorthand | ☐ Count (verb) + down (preposition)– Countdown |
| ☐ Swimming (present participle) + pool (noun) – Swimming pool | ☐ Flash (verb) + mob (noun) – Flash mob |
| ☐ Three (adjective) + legged (past participle) – Three-legged | ☐ Master (noun) + piece (noun) – Masterpiece |
| | ☐ Round (adjective) + table (noun) – Round-table |

Rules to be Followed When Forming Words

Formation of words can be a very interesting exercise, but you have to be really careful when you are adding inflections or affixes. There are a few things you will need to bear in mind when you are forming words. Take a look at the following points to learn what they are.

- ☐ Before making any change to the stem of the word, try to analyse what is the kind of meaning you want the word to convey and what role the word will have to play in the sentence.
- ☐ In most cases, the beginning of the base word remains the same. Only when prefixes are added the word has a syllable added to the beginning of it. Notice that even in this case, the word is retained as such.
- ☐ When suffixes are added, there are many instances where you will have to remove the last one or more alphabets of the word and add the suffix. However, there are words like ‘movement’ where the suffix is just added without any change in the spelling of the base word.
- ☐ Here is one way to easily know which suffix has to be added to form a particular word class – most often, nouns end in ‘er’, ‘or’, ‘ist’, ‘ian’, ‘ion’, ‘ment’, ‘ness’, and ‘ity’; verbs end in ‘ise’, ‘ate’ and ‘en’; adjectives end in ‘able’, ‘ible’, ‘ive’, ‘ic’, ‘ed’, ‘ing’ and ‘al’; and adverbs normally end in ‘ly’.
- ☐ When words are formed by conversion, be very careful. Make sure you know that you are converting them accurately and using them in the sentence properly.
- ☐ When forming compound words, see to it that you hyphenate them if necessary, use the right combination of words and do not just mix and match any word.
- ☐ Changing from one tense to another also can also be considered a type of word formation, as the word is inflected to indicate the twelve different tenses in the English language.
- ☐ Forming degrees of comparison can also be put under word formation. In this case, the comparative and superlative degrees are formed by adding ‘er’ and ‘est’ to the end of the adjective. The comparative and superlative degrees of polysyllabic words are formed by using ‘more’ and ‘most’, respectively, along with the adjective.

- "Denise studied."
- "Christine and Philip studied and worked."
(1 clause, even with compound subjects/verbs)

✓ COMPOUND SENTENCE◆ 2 or more Independent Clauses◆ Joined by coordinating conjunctions (for, and, nor, but, or, yet, so → FANBOYS)Structure:

- Independent Clause + , + FANBOYS + Independent Clause

Example:

- "I studied, and she wrote the paper."
 - Independent Clause 1: "I studied"
 - Independent Clause 2: "she wrote the paper"
 - Joined by and → compound

✓ COMPLEX SENTENCE◆ 1 Independent Clause + 1 or more Dependent Clauses*Examples (similar to the photo):

- "When it rained, we stayed home."

- "We stayed home because it rained."
 - Independent: "We stayed home"
 - Dependent: "because it rained"

✓ COMPOUND-COMPLEX SENTENCE◆ At least 2 Independent Clauses◆ At least 1 Dependent Clause*Example:

SENTENCE STRUCTURE BASICS

All sentences consist of one or more clauses. A clause is a group of words that contains a subject and a verb. Some clauses are independent, and others are dependent. For a sentence to be complete, it must contain at least one independent clause.

INDEPENDENT AND DEPENDENT CLAUSES

An independent clause expresses a complete thought and can stand alone as a sentence.

A dependent clause is not a complete sentence. It must be connected to an independent clause. Subject

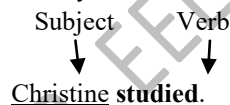

There are different types of dependent clauses. For more information, please refer to the Learning Centre's Dependent Clauses handout.

SENTENCE TYPES

There are four sentence patterns: simple, compound, complex, and compound-complex. The different patterns are categorized according to various combinations of independent and dependent clauses.

SIMPLE SENTENCES

The simple sentence is composed of one independent clause.
A simple sentence may have one subject and one verb.

A simple sentence may contain two or more subjects and/or two or more verbs.

A simple sentence may also contain phrases and other modifiers such as articles, adjectives, and adverbs.

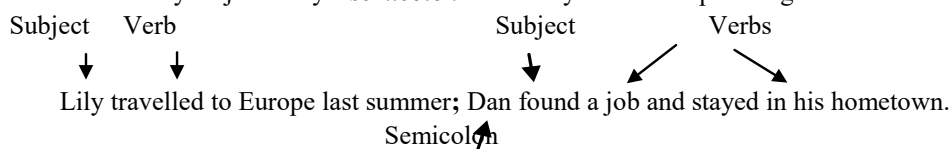

COMPOUND SENTENCES

The compound sentence is composed of two or more independent clauses but no dependent clauses.

There are three ways to join the independent clauses in a compound sentence:

- Two independent clauses may be joined by a semicolon when they have an implied logical relationship.

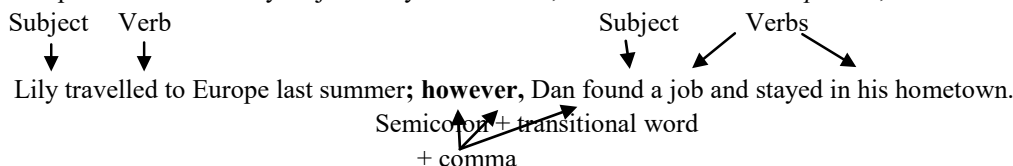

2. Two independent clauses may be joined by a comma and a coordinating conjunction. The seven coordinating conjunctions are easily remembered with the mnemonic device FANBOYS.

Comma + Coordinating Conjunction

For
And Nor
But Or
Yet
So

3. Two independent clauses may be joined by a semicolon, a transitional word or phrase, and a comma.

Here are some examples of commonly used transitional words and phrases:

However	Nonetheless	Accordingly
Therefore	Similarly	Consequently
Furthermore	Undoubtedly	Finally
Moreover	For instance	Hence
On the other hand	For example	Thus

COMPLEX SENTENCES

The complex sentence is composed of one independent clause and one or more dependent clauses.

The dependent clauses may be located in any of the following positions within a complex sentence: before the independent clause, after the independent clause, before and after the independent clause, or interrupting the independent clause.

The compound-complex sentence is composed of two or more independent clauses and one or more dependent clauses. Until I finish my exams, I have to study every night; otherwise, I would definitely join you for the concert.

Dependent Clause	Independent Clause	Independent Clause
David was confused about the assignment that was due on Tuesday,	so he asked his teacher for help.

5. To Sam, nothing in the world could compare to the delicious gingerbread that his grandmother prepared for Christmas each year.

6. I'll be waiting for you in the lobby, so just come down when you're ready.

SENTENCE FRAGMENTS

A fragment is a group of words punctuated like a sentence but lacks at least one of the four requirements of a grammatical sentence:

1. a subject
2. a verb
3. a complete verb
4. a complete thought

01 A missing-subject fragment is a group of words that lacks a subject. Which part of the following example is the fragment?

I got a C on my assignment. For not correcting the sentence fragments in my paper.

Although the second part has a verb-like word—correcting—it may look like a sentence. But, —correcting is actually a noun (a gerund—which results from adding —ing to a verb. Ex: cooking, running, licking) To fix it, we can combine it with the preceding independent clause like this: I got a C on my assignment for not correcting the sentence fragments in my paper.

2. A missing-verb fragment is a group of words that lacks a main verb. For example, The statue damaged during the riots. While —damaged looks like a verb because of the —ed ending, it's not because it describes the condition of the statue instead of identifying what the statue did. One way to fix this fragment is to add a verb for which the —statue can be the subject: The statue damaged during the riots needed drastic repairs. Now —damaged during the riots identifies which —statue needs repairs, and —needed explains what the —statue did: it —needed drastic repairs.

3. An incomplete-verb fragment is a group of words that needs a helping verb because the main verb is a present participle (-ing) or a passive verb (-ed or -en), neither of which can stand alone as a main verb. Here's a fragment caused by a present participle trying to be the main verb by itself:

The leaves moving with the wind.

However, fix it by either adding a helping verb (such as —are) or replacing the —ing verb with a simple past or present form, which can stand alone as a main verb:

The leaves are moving with the wind. Or

The leaves moved with the wind. Or

The leaves move with the wind.

4. An incomplete-thought fragment is a group of words that is a dependent clause or a phrase or that has a subject and a verb but needs an object.

Dependent clause fragments: Some words or phrases used to introduce a subordinate or relative clause may result in a fragment because they cannot stand alone.

Subordinating Conjunctions	since	while	whom	whomever
	because	when,	whose
after if,	so that	whenever	that	Adverbs
even if	before	wherever	which,	where
although	unless		whichever
Though	even though	Relative Pronouns	what,
in order that	until		whatever
as	whether or not	who,	whoever,

Notice how the subordinating conjunction in the second part of the following example makes it a fragment despite the presence of a subject (—everyone) and a verb (—laughed):

It was really embarrassing. Especially after everyone laughed.

Correct this by attaching the subordinate clause to the independent clause:

It was really embarrassing, especially after everyone laughed.

Phrase-only fragments:

Here the second part—a present participial phrase—tries to stand alone as a sentence:

My son keeps several pets in his room. Including hamsters, mice, and gerbils.

Because the participial phrase is meant to modify a noun—in this case —pets—we can attach it to the independent clause like this: My son keeps several pets, including hamsters, mice, and gerbils, in his room.

In this next example, the present participial phrase comes first; however, it's still a fragment:

Not thinking we would be late. We left the house around nine.

Because —we were the ones who were —not thinking, we can simply attach the participial phrase to the front of the independent clause:

Not thinking we would be late, we left the house around nine.

Missing-object fragments:

Some verbs require an object, or a thing or person who receives the action of the verb. Without the object, we have a fragment as in this example: A committee named.

Obviously the reader is left wondering what the —committee named. In order to complete the thought, add an object: A committee named the new building on campus.

Here's another example with the same problem: My niece broke.

Again, in order to fix the fragment, all we have to do is add an object, in this case what —my niece broke: My niece broke the dishes.

RUN-ONS

These are also called fused sentences. You are making a run-on when you put two complete sentences (a subject and its predicate and another subject and its predicate) together in one sentence without separating them properly. Here's an example of a run-on:

My favorite Mediterranean spread is *hummus it is very garlicky.

(*Hummus is a food item made from cooked, mashed chickpeas or other beans, blended with olive oil, lemon juice, salt and garlic. It is popular in the Middle East and Mediterranean, as well as in Middle Eastern cuisine around the globe.) This one sentence actually contains two complete sentences. But in the rush to get that idea out, I made it into one incorrect sentence. Luckily, there are many ways to correct this run-on sentence.

1. You could use a semicolon:

My favorite Mediterranean spread is hummus; it is very garlicky.

2. You could use a comma and a coordinating conjunction (for, and, nor, but, or, yet, so):

My favorite Mediterranean spread is hummus, for it is very garlicky. -OR-

My favorite Mediterranean spread is hummus, and it is very garlicky.

3. You could use a subordinating conjunction (see above):

My favorite Mediterranean spread is hummus because it is very garlicky. -OR-
Because it is so garlicky, my favorite Mediterranean spread is hummus.

4. You could make it into two separate sentences with a period in between:

My favorite Mediterranean spread is hummus. It is very garlicky.

5. You could use an em-dash (a long dash) for emphasis:

My favorite Mediterranean spread is hummus—it is very garlicky.

REMEMBER, you CANNOT simply add a comma between the two sentences, or you'll end up with what's called a "comma splice." Here's an example of a comma splice:

My favorite Mediterranean spread is hummus, it is very garlicky.

You can fix a comma splice the same way you fix a run-on—either change the punctuation or add a conjunction. The good news is that writers tend to be either comma splicers or run-on artists, but almost never both. Which one are you? If you have particular trouble with comma splices, try looking at our handout on commas.

Finding Run-ons

As you can see, fixing run-ons is pretty easy once you see them—but how do you find out if a sentence is a run-on if you aren't sure? Try these two tests:

☐ Turn your sentences into yes/no questions.

☐ Turn your sentences into tag questions (sentences that end with a questioning phrase at the very end—look at our examples below). These are two things that nearly everyone can do easily if the sentence is not a run-on, but they become next to impossible if it is. Look at the following sentence:

My favorite Mediterranean spread is hummus.

If you turn it into a question that someone could answer with a yes or no, it looks like this:

Is my favorite Mediterranean spread hummus?

☐ If you turn it into a tag question, it looks like this:

My favorite Mediterranean spread is hummus, isn't it?

The first sentence is complete and not a run-on, because our test worked.

Now, look again at the original run-on sentence:

My favorite Mediterranean spread is hummus it is very garlicky.

The yes/no question can only be made with each separate thought, not the sentence as a whole:

Is my favorite Mediterranean spread hummus? Is it very garlicky?

But not:

Is my favorite Mediterranean spread hummus is it very garlicky?

The tag question can also only be made with each separate thought, rather than the whole:

My favorite Mediterranean spread is hummus, isn't it? It's very garlicky, isn't it?

But never:

My favorite Mediterranean spread is hummus it is very garlicky, isn't it?

Unlike the complete sentence, the run-on sentence doesn't pass these tests. When you try to turn the run-on sentence into a single question, you immediately see that the sentence has more than one complete concept. Make sure you try both tests with each of your problem sentences, because you may trick yourself by just putting a tag on the last part and not noticing that it doesn't work on the first. Some people might not notice that "My favorite Mediterranean spread is hummus it is very garlicky isn't it?" is wrong, but most people will spot the yes/no question problem right away.

ENGLISH PHONETICS

In English alphabet we have 26 letters. We can express our ideas and views through those 26 letters by writing. But the phoneticians have found that we make a lot of sounds while we speak and for some sounds there is no symbol or sign. Again in written English, one letter can often be pronounced in different ways. For example, the letter 'a' is pronounced in hat, pass, came, water, dare, ago. But phonetic spelling is a way of writing a word where one symbol always represents only one sound. The phoneticians have classified the sounds into two groups. These are-

1. The vowel sounds
2. The consonant sounds

The vowel sounds: The vowel sounds are those sounds when we pronounce them the air does not face any obstruction as it passes from our lungs through our mouth.

Vowel sounds can be categorized into two:

- i) The Monophthongs or Single vowels or Pure vowels (12)
- ii) The Diphthongs or Double vowels or Impure vowels (08)

The Monophthongs are as follows

I = sit, hit	e = ten, men	ɔ: = saw, jaw	ə = ago, about	ʒ: = curd, fur
i: = see, knee	æ = tan, man	ʊ = put, book	ʌ = but, cut
i = happy	ɒ = pot, cot	U: = pool, boo	ɑ = card, Far

The Diphthongs

Diphthong means a union of two vowel sounds. In English language we have eight diphthongs. They are as follows:

eɪ	-	daily,	main	aʊ	-	town,	down	lə	-	near,	deaf
aɪ	-	five,	kind	əʊ	-	home,	go	ʊə	-	poor,	tour
ɔɪ	-	boy,	toy	eə	-	hair,	fair

Consonant Sounds

Consonant sounds are those sounds when we pronounce them, the air faces some kind of obstruction as it passes from our lungs through our mouth. The consonant sounds are as follows:

p = as in pen, poet, park	k = as in cat, car, cart.	v = as in voice, van, vat	n = as in nine, net, neck
b = as in boy, bed, bad	g = as in gate, game, go	z = as in zoo, zeal, zebra	i = as in long, lost, lock
t = as in ten, toy, tea	f = as in fan, fat, five	h = as in how, hug, hum	r = as in red, rod, rock
d = as in dark, dog, day.	s = as in so, see, seen	m = as in man, mat, mouse	w = as in wet, we, weather

Unusual Consonants:-

But there are some consonant sounds for which we do not have any signs or symbols. To represent those sounds, the phoneticians have created the following signs or symbols:

ʃ - as in she, shock	ð - as in there, them	dʒ - as in June, judge	ŋ - as in sing, anger
θ - as in thin, thick	tʃ - as in chair, chain,	ʒ - as in vision, pleasure	j - as in yet, university

Now we all know how to pronounce the vowel and consonant sounds of English language. So, let us look at some words and how they are pronounced:

Phonetic spellings of some words

PARAPHRASING

Easy Steps and Rules for Paraphrasing (With Simple Examples)1. What is Paraphrasing?

Paraphrasing means saying the same thing in your own words.

You do not copy the exact words from the original.

You only keep the same meaning.

2. Is Paraphrasing Difficult?

Some people think paraphrasing is hard. But don't worry!

If you follow these easy steps, you can do it.

We will also show you examples to help you understand better.

3. Step 1: Understand the Passage

- First, read the original passage carefully.
- Make sure you understand what it means.
- You can read it more than once if needed.
- You can also look at examples online to help you.

4. Step 2: Start Writing in Your Own Words

- After you understand the passage, write it again using your own words.
- Tip: Don't look at the original while writing. This helps you avoid copying.

5. Step 3: Use a Dictionary

- If you don't know another word to use, you can check a dictionary or thesaurus.
- This helps you write correctly and clearly.
- Just remember: keep the same meaning as the original.

6. Step 4: Compare with the Original

- Now look at both your version and the original passage.
- Ask yourself:
 - "Did I keep the same meaning?"
 - "Are the words and structure different?"
- This step helps you make sure your paraphrase is correct.

7. Step 5: Rearrange the Sentences

- Change the order of the sentence if needed.
- Do not copy the same sentence style.
- But make sure your version still makes sense and gives the same message.

8. Step 6: Change the Voice (Optional)

- You can change active voice to passive voice, or the other way.

Examples:

- Active: "The teacher gave homework."
- Passive: "Homework was given by the teacher."

This makes your writing look different from the original.

9. Step 7: Use Quotation Marks (If Needed)

- If you must use an exact word or phrase from the original, use quotation marks (" ").
- This shows the words are not yours but from someone else.
- It's a way to give credit to the original writer.

10. Step 8: Record the Source

- Always say where you got the idea or text from.
- This is called citing the source.
- It shows you respect the writer's work.
- It also helps you avoid plagiarism (copying someone else's work without credit).

11. Paraphrasing Examples

◆ Example 1:

- Original: “The economy is travail because of the bank’s poor judgement.”
- Paraphrased: “The bank’s bad decision caused the economy to get worse.”

Example: Original sentence: The girl sang. With modifier: The girl sang beautifully.

What Is a Misplaced Modifier?

A misplaced modifier is in the wrong place in the sentence. It makes the meaning unclear or funny.

◆ Example (Wrong): She almost ate all the cookies. ✗ This sounds like she didn't eat the cookies, she almost did.

✓ Correct: She ate almost all the cookies. ✓ Now it means she ate most of the cookies, not all.

◆ Example (Wrong): He saw a dog on the way to the store. ✗ Is the dog going to the store?

✓ Correct: On the way to the store, he saw a dog. ✓ Now it's clear he was going to the store.

📌 Summary Table

Type	What's Wrong	How to Fix
Misplaced Modifier	Modifier is too far from the word	Move it closer to the correct word
Dangling Modifier	No clear subject for the modifier	Add a subject right after the phrase

✓ Method to Identify Misplaced and Dangling Modifiers◆ Step 1: Find the Modifier

Look for a word or phrase that adds detail.

Modifiers often tell how, when, where, or why something happened.

Example: Smiling brightly, the baby was in the photo. → Modifier: Smiling brightly

◆ Step 2: Find the Word It's Modifying

Ask: Who or what is doing the action?

Make sure the modifier is next to the correct word.

Example (Wrong): Smiling brightly, the camera took a photo of the baby. ✗ The camera can't smile.

Fix: Smiling brightly, the baby sat for a photo → ✓ Now it makes sense.

◆ Step 3: Check the Sentence Meaning

- "Does this sentence clearly say who is doing the action?"
- "Is the modifier next to the right word?"

◆ Step 4: Move or Add Words if Needed

If something feels unclear, funny, or wrong, try:

- ✓ Moving the modifier closer to the correct subject
- ✓ Adding a clear subject right after the modifier

✪ How to Identify Misplaced Modifier (Easy Trick):

SUBJECT-VERB AGREEMENT

Agreement is a basic rule of grammar. Subjects and verbs must agree in person and number. The rules below will help you avoid subject-verb agreement errors.

1. In the present tense, third person, use verbs ending in –s with singular subjects.

	singular	plural
1st person	I walk	we walk
2nd person	you walk	you walk
3rd person	he/she/it walks	they walk

I require attention. (1st person, singular, no –s is needed.)

A dog requires attention. (3rd person singular, an –s is needed.)

Dogs require attention. (–s indicates a plural subject, but the verb does not need an –s.)

2. The verb must agree with its simple subject even though modifying phrases or clauses come between the simple subject and its verb.

WRONG: The recommendation of two policemen, a judge, and three lawyers were accepted.

CORRECT: The recommendation of two policemen, a judge, and three lawyers was accepted.

3. Words such as “including,” “together with,” and “as well as” introduce modifying elements that are generally set off by commas. Since these elements are not part of the subject, they do not influence the choice of singular or plural verbs—ignore them!

WRONG: The delinquent, as well as his mom and dad, were in the detention hall.

CORRECT: The delinquent, as well as his mom and dad, was in the detention hall.

4. When two nouns are connected by some form of the verb to be, the first noun is the grammatical subject, and the verb agrees with it.

WRONG: The first [thing] we noticed were the [shoes].

CORRECT: The first [thing] we noticed was the [shoes].

CORRECT: The shoes were the first thing we noticed.

5. If the verb precedes the subject, determine the subject and make the verb agree with it.

CORRECT: Above a cluster of convents rises the Cathedral of St. John.

6. In sentences beginning with here is/are or there is/are, look for the subject after the verb.

Subject - Verb Agreement 2

Quick and Handy Grammar Review Subject: Verb Agreement

1. Singular and Plural Subjects

The basic rule for subject and verb agreement is that singular subjects take singular verbs and plural subjects take plural verbs. In general, you will only notice these differences in the present tense. This is because in the past tense there is no difference between the singular and plural form of the verb. The only exception to this rule is the verb to be, which has a different singular (was) and a plural (were) form in the past. Let's examine a few examples:

Bob (is / are) my brother's best friend.

The new vice president (come / comes) from Indiana.

Should we use is or are in these sentences? Bob is singular, so we should use is. In the second sentence, there is only one new vice president, so we must use comes.

Nan and Barb (has / have) a special relationship.

Sixteen teachers (works / work) at the new elementary school.

In these sentences, Nan and Barb make a plural subject, so we should use the verb have. Sixteen teachers are also a plural subject, so we choose work as the correct verb form.

2. Each and Every

Each and every are always followed by a singular verb. It doesn't matter if each and every are followed by one noun or a series of nouns; the singular verb is always used.

Every student has to take the Basic Skills Test in math.

Every man, woman, and child is protected by the law.

Each component is sold separately.

Each item on sale now costs only $5.

3. Some, a lot, most of, percentages, and fractions

Like there, the words some, a lot, percentages, and fractions are either singular or plural depending on the noun that follows. Let's examine these examples:

Some excellent wine is made in Chile.

Some vegetables grow underground rather than above the ground.

In the first sentence, some describes the word wine, which is non-count singular, so we use the singular verb is. The word some in the second sentence describes vegetables, which is plural. For this reason, we use the plural verb grow.

1. A lot of the peaches in the basket are not ripe.

2. A lot of the tea sold in America comes from India.

3. Most of the managers at that company work on Saturdays.

4. Most of the water in the river near the factory is polluted.

To decide on what verb to use after a lot and most of, analyze the noun that follows. In the first sentence, the noun peaches is plural, so we use the plural verb are. Tea is singular (and non-count) in the second sentence, so the singular verb comes is used. In sentence number three, managers is plural, so we use work. In the last sentence, though, we choose the singular verb is because the noun water is non-count singular.

1. Sixty percent of the students in the class speak three languages.
2. Four-fifths of the spectators are cheering for the home team.
3. Forty percent of the work was done by only five employees.
4. One-half of the beer at the party was warm.

For percentages (i.e. 40%) and fractions (i.e. 4/5), analyze the noun that follows the verb. In sentences number one and two, the nouns students and spectators are plural, so the plural verbs speak and are cheering are used. However, the nouns in sentences three and four, work and beer are both non-count singular, so we use the singular verb was in both sentences.

4. Blocks of money, distance, and time

Many times these blocks are considered singular.

Fifty dollars is a lot to pay for one dinner.

Five hundred miles is probably too far to drive in one day.

Forty-five minutes is a very long coffee break.

5. Special Nouns

Some nouns are tricky. Study the following list and memorize the rule. Mathematics, statistics, economics, physics, aerobics Some academic subjects end in -s, but they are singular anyway.

Mathematics is the most difficult subject for me. Physics is the easiest.

Advice, news, and hair [on your head] are non-count singular

Her advice was perfect for the situation.

The news is always bad because of the war.

Karl's hair is long and black.

Police is plural. An individual (singular) is a police officer

The police are coming right away.

A police officer sometimes works nights and weekends.

6. Special Construction: One of the (plural noun) + singular verb.

In this structure, remember to use a singular verb because the subject is One.

Is it for all regions or specific locations?
☐ TIP: Consider separate press releases for affected and unaffected regions if needed.
☐ TIP: Be precise: e.g., “All East Zone outlets will be affected.”

4. 📅 WHEN?

When is the event, update, or change happening?
Include start and end dates (and time zones if needed)
☐ TIP: Be extremely clear:
✓ Good: “From Feb 1 to Sep 15, 2025 (EST)”
✗ Vague: “From Feb 2025 to Sep 2025”
☐ TIP: Don't just give a date—also state what needs to be done by when (e.g., apply, purchase, update).

5. ❓ WHY?

Why is this important or relevant?
Why should the reader care?
☐ TIP: Put the main reason or benefit at the top of the press release.
☐ TIP: Avoid fluff—be clear why the information matters to real people.

6. ⚙ HOW?

How did this happen?
How is the company solving it, supporting customers, or improving?

- TIP: Avoid blaming others or sounding defensive.
- TIP: Focus on solutions and the company's positive actions.

Additional Writing Guidelines

★ Clarity & Brevity

- TIP: Editors prefer clear and short releases. Stay under 1 page. Avoid flowery or emotional language.
- TIP: Remove unnecessary adjectives. Make every sentence earn its place.
- Know Your Media Format
TV or Audio? Keep it simple and easy to say aloud.
Print or Web? Include clear structure, relevant quotes, and visuals if needed.
- TIP: Avoid announcing long strings of numbers (like serial numbers) in audio releases.
- TIP: Tailor content for color vs. black-and-white media if using visuals.

🗨️ Use the Right Tone and Pronouns

- TIP: Personal tone may work better in some contexts.
Example:

✓ “At Widget Keys, we are improving safety.”

✗ “Widget Keys continues their efforts...”

- Structure of a Good Press Release

1. 📢 Headline / Title

Attention-grabbing and informative
Avoid sounding like an advertisement

- TIP:

✗ Needs improvement: “Great deals and charity too!”

✓ Better: “Time waits for no one — Antique watchmaker & local auction raise funds for schools”

2. ⌚ Release Timing

State clearly: “For Immediate Release” or “Embargoed Until [Date]”

- TIP: Avoid using embargoed press releases unless absolutely necessary—media outlets often ignore them.

3. 📞 Contact Information

Include: Name, phone, email, and title of a media contact person

- TIP: Make sure your contact person is responsive and knows the subject matter.

4. 📄 Format & Layout

Double-spaced

Use wide margins for media notes

Write in paragraphs (but keep them short)

- TIP: A clean layout helps reporters take notes easily and improves readability.

5. 📏 Length

Ideal length: 1 page

Max: 2 pages (only if essential)

- TIP: Anything longer starts to look like a feature article—not a press release.

6. 🏁 Ending the Release

End with: “Ends” (in bold)

Below that:

“For further information, contact: [details]”

7. 📝 Notes to Editors (Optional)

Include extra background, image availability, or data that journalists may find useful

Place after the main text and contact info

- TIP: Use this section for extra but non-essential details like “50% off,” “photos available,” or quotes.

✓ Final Tips for Success

🔄 Draft multiple versions:

- Don't expect to get it perfect on the first try—edit, revise, and get feedback.

- Test clarity:

- Let someone unfamiliar with the topic read your draft.

📖 Think like a journalist:

- Only include what's relevant, timely, and easy to report.

★ Be honest and transparent:

- Don't hide bad news or exaggerate the good. It will damage your credibility.

📢 প্রেস রিলিজ লেখার সহজ নিয়ম

🎯 প্রেস রিলিজের উদ্দেশ্য কী?

নতুন ও দরকারি তথ্য জনসাধারণ ও সংবাদমাধ্যমে পৌঁছানো।

সংক্ষিপ্ত, তথ্যভিত্তিক, ও পাঠকের দৃষ্টি আকর্ষণকারী হতে হবে।

✓ টিপস: নিজেকে প্রশ্ন করুন: “তথ্যটি কি মানুষের কাজে লাগবে বা নতুন কিছু?” —

উত্তর হ্যাঁ হলে প্রেস রিলিজ দিন।

🔍 লেখার আগে চিন্তা করুন: 5W + 1H

1. WHO (কে?)

কারা তথ্য দিচ্ছে? (একজন ব্যক্তি, কোম্পানি, বিভাগ)

কারা এতে প্রভাবিত হবে বা পদক্ষেপ নেবে?

- টিপস: শুধু ট্যাগেট পাঠক না, সেকেন্ডারি পাঠকদের কথাও ভাবুন। তবে লেখার ভাষা মূল ট্যাগেট অডিয়েন্স অনুযায়ী রাখুন।

2. WHAT (কী?)

কী ঘোষণা করা হচ্ছে?

তথ্যটি কি নতুন, দরকারি, ও বোধগম্য?

- টিপস: যদি তথ্য প্রযুক্তিগত হয়, তাহলে গ্রাফ, লিংক বা সহজ ভাষা ব্যবহার করুন।

যেমন: “প্লাটিনাম হোম সিকিউরিটি সিস্টেমের বাটনে ক্রটি, প্রতিস্থাপন হবে।”

3. WHERE (কোথায়?)

কোন অঞ্চল বা এলাকাতে এই তথ্য প্রযোজ্য?

- টিপস: বিভিন্ন অঞ্চল অনুযায়ী ভিন্ন প্রেস রিলিজ পাঠানো ভালো, যাতে কেউ বিভ্রান্ত না হয়।

4. WHEN (কখন?)

তথ্য বা কার্যক্রম কবে শুরু এবং শেষ হবে?

পাঠক কবে পদক্ষেপ নেবে?

- টিপস: তারিখ লিখুন স্পষ্টভাবে:

✓ ভালো: “০১ ফেব্রুয়ারি ২০২৫ থেকে ১৫ সেপ্টেম্বর ২০২৫ (বাংলাদেশ সময়)”

✗ খারাপ: “ফেব্রুয়ারি থেকে সেপ্টেম্বর পর্যন্ত”

5. WHY (কেন?)

কেন এটা গুরুত্বপূর্ণ?

পাঠক কেন এতে আগ্রহ দেখাবে?

□ টিপস: মূল বার্তাটি প্রথমেই দিন যাতে সংবাদপত্রের সম্পাদক বা পাঠক দেরি না করে বুঝে যায়।

6. HOW (কিভাবে?)

ঘটনা কীভাবে ঘটল?

সমস্যা সমাধানে কী করা হচ্ছে?

□ টিপস: দোষ চাপাবেন না। বরং দেখান আপনি কীভাবে সমাধান দিচ্ছেন বা সহানুভূতি দেখাচ্ছেন।

■ লেখার কৌশল

★ সংক্ষিপ্ততা ও স্পষ্টতা

□ টিপস: যতটা সম্ভব সহজ ভাষায় লিখুন। “এক পৃষ্ঠা”র মধ্যে শেষ করার চেষ্টা করুন।

□ টিপস: বাড়তি শব্দ এড়িয়ে চলুন। প্রতিটি বাক্য যেন কোনো না কোনো প্রয়োজন পূরণ করে।

■ মিডিয়া মাধ্যম বুঝে লিখুন

রেডিও বা টিভির জন্য ছোট বাক্য ও সহজ শব্দ ব্যবহার করুন।

পত্রিকা বা ওয়েবের জন্য বিস্তারিত তথ্য ও গ্রাফিক্স দিন।

□ টিপস: রেডিওতে লম্বা সিরিয়াল নাম্বার বা জটিল শব্দ বলার দরকার নেই।

👤 ভাষা ও টোন কেমন হবে?

□ টিপস: প্রয়োজনে ব্যক্তি-ভিত্তিক টোন ব্যবহার করুন:

✓ “আমরা আমাদের গ্রাহকদের নিরাপত্তা উন্নত করতে কাজ করছি”

✗ “Widget Keys তাদের গ্রাহকদের জন্য নিরাপত্তা উন্নত করছে”

□ প্রেস রিলিজের কাঠামো

1. 📄 শিরোনাম (Title):

আকর্ষণীয়, তথ্যবহুল, কিন্তু বিজ্ঞাপনসুলভ না

□ টিপস:

✗ “অবিশ্বাস্য ছাড় ও চ্যারিটি!”

✓ “সময় কারো জন্য অপেক্ষা করে না — স্থানীয় নিলামে স্কুলের জন্য তহবিল সংগ্রহ”

2. 🕒 রিলিজ টাইমিং:

লিখে দিন: “তৎক্ষণাত প্রকাশের জন্য” বা “গোপন রাখা হবে [তারিখ] পর্যন্ত”

□ টিপস: গোপন (embargoed) প্রেস রিলিজ না পাঠানোই ভালো—অনেক মিডিয়া এগুলো ব্যবহার করে না।

3. 🗨️ যোগাযোগের তথ্য:

নাম, ফোন, ইমেইল—সেই ব্যক্তির যিনি মিডিয়া প্রশ্নের উত্তর দিতে পারবেন

□ টিপস: নিশ্চিত করুন ঐ ব্যক্তি সহজে পাওয়া যায় এবং বিষয়টি ভালো বোঝেন।

4. 📄 ফরম্যাট:

ডাবল স্পেসে লিখুন

১ ইঞ্চি মার্জিন দিন

ছোট প্যারাগ্রাফে ভেঙে লিখুন

5. 📄 দৈর্ঘ্য:

সর্বোচ্চ ১ পৃষ্ঠা

একান্ত প্রয়োজনে ২ পৃষ্ঠা

□ টিপস: দুই পৃষ্ঠার বেশি হলে মিডিয়া তা “সংবাদ প্রবন্ধ” হিসেবে দেখবে, প্রেস রিলিজ নয়।

6. 📄 শেষে কী লিখবেন:

লিখুন: “Ends” (bold করে)

তারপর:

“বিস্তারিত তথ্যের জন্য যোগাযোগ করুন: [তথ্য]”

7. 📄 সম্পাদকদের জন্য নোট (ঐচ্ছিক):

বাড়তি তথ্য, ছবি, ব্যাকগ্রাউন্ড, লিংক ইত্যাদি দিন

এটি “Ends” এর পরে রাখুন

□ টিপস: এই অংশে দিন: “ছবির ব্যবস্থা আছে,” “৫০% ছাড় দেওয়া হতে পারে,” ইত্যাদি

✓ চূড়ান্ত পরামর্শ

✗ অনেক খসড়া তৈরি করুন — একবারে পারফেক্ট না হলে ভয় নেই

👁️ অন্য কাউকে দিয়ে পড়ে দেখান — বুঝতে অসুবিধা হচ্ছে কিনা

📄 সাংবাদিকদের চোখ দিয়ে ভাবুন — তথ্য দরকারি? সময়োপযোগী?

□ টিপস: আপনার প্রেস রিলিজ যেন সহজ, নিরপেক্ষ ও গুরুত্বপূর্ণ হয় — সেটাই মিডিয়া খুঁজে।

PRESS RELEASE

Only 7% high school dropouts have skills training, ABC foundation study finds

Despite the recent advances in literacy rate in the country, high school drop out rates remain a major concern for the country's youth development, and what is more alarming is that most of them lack in any formal skill to be meaningfully employed.

A recent study conducted by ABC Foundation during April-May 2021 among 3,000 high school dropouts in 10 districts across the country shows that only 7% of them have training in skills such as car repairing, driving, light engineering, carpentry, etc. The study, titled 'Relationship Between Skills Training and Ability to Absorb Economic Shocks among High School Dropouts in Bangladesh' also found that those with the skills training have been able to rejoin their old workplaces that have been shutdown due to the Covid-19 lockdown.

These findings were revealed at a virtual launching program on Sunday (08 August 2021) organized by ABC Foundation. According to the study, in which the Ministry of Youth and Sports was a key partner, survey Participants, all of whom were aged between 16-20 years, identified a lack of information about available training opportunities and shortage of training centres as the two biggest reasons for not being able to avail the training.

Mr. (.....), the honorable minister for youth and sports, who attended the program as chief guest, said, "The government is looking to promote greater integration of Polytechnique and other skills components into the curriculum of high schools and colleges. We are also working to train up the teachers so that they can give the basic understanding of certain skills."

Ms. (.....), senior advisor to ABC Foundation and leader of the team that conducted the study, said, "There is a clear connection between our youth's ability to withstand economic hardships and skills training. Entrepreneurs have also told us that skilled youth is not easy to find, that's why they have to make do with unskilled youth which leads to a lot of wasted potential."

Mr. (.....), executive director of ABC Foundation and the chair of the launching event, said, "In order for Bangladesh to reap the benefits of the ongoing demographic dividend that we are experiencing, there is no alternative to developing a skilled workforce."

The study was conducted with direct funding from the (.....) Commission. Of the respondents, 35% were girls and young women.

Established in 2010, ABC Foundation, in association with the Ministry of Youth and Sports, has been running a total of 25 youth skills training centres across the country where young men and women, particularly high school and college dropouts, are given hands on training on 15 different trades including repairing electronic and electric gadgets, carpentry, light engineering, construction, woodwork, etc.

■ Amplification Writing – পরিচিতি

◆ Amplification বলতে কী বোঝায়?

- ‘Amplification’ মানে হলো ভাব সম্প্রসারণ বা ব্যাখ্যা করা।
- এটি কোনো বক্তব্য বা প্রবাদ বাক্যকে যুক্তিসংগতভাবে বিস্তারিতভাবে উপস্থাপন করার পদ্ধতি।
- এর উদ্দেশ্য হলো বক্তব্যের অর্থ স্পষ্ট করা — উদাহরণ, ব্যাখ্যা ও যুক্তির মাধ্যমে।

◆ Amplification লেখার ধাপ ও নির্দেশনা (Tips):

1. মনোযোগ দিয়ে বারবার পড়ো:
 - প্রদত্ত বক্তব্য (উক্তি, প্রবাদ, প্যারাডক্স ইত্যাদি) ধীরে ও কয়েকবার পড়ে তার মূলভাব ও তাৎপর্য বুঝতে হবে।
2. ভাবনায় বিকাশ ঘটানো:
 - বক্তব্যটি নিয়ে গভীরভাবে চিন্তা করো।
 - উদাহরণ, উপমা, তুলনামূলক প্রবাদ ইত্যাদি ভাবো এবং লজিকালি সাজাও।
3. রাফ খসড়া তৈরি করো:
 - একটি খসড়া লেখো যাতে থাকবে:
 - ভূমিকা: বক্তব্যটির সংক্ষিপ্ত ব্যাখ্যা।
 - মূল আলোচনা: যুক্তি, উদাহরণসহ বিস্তারিত ব্যাখ্যা।
 - উপসংহার: সারাংশ ও মূল বক্তব্যের পুনরায় উল্লেখ।
4. অপ্রয়োজনীয় কিছু লেখো না:

- যেসব কথা বা তথ্য বিষয়ের সাথে সরাসরি সম্পর্ক নেই, সেগুলো বাদ দাও।
- 5. ভাবের ধারাবাহিকতা রাখো:
 - প্রতিটি বাক্য যেন অন্যটির সাথে যুক্ত থাকে।
 - প্রতিটি বাক্য যেন ভাবকে সামনে এগিয়ে নেয়।
- 6. সহজ ভাষা ব্যবহার করো:
 - সরল ও স্পষ্ট ভাষা ব্যবহার করো।
 - জটিল বা অতিরিক্ত আড়ম্বরপূর্ণ শব্দ পরিহার করো।
- 7. পুনঃসংস্কার ও সংশোধন করো:

- রাফ খসড়াটি ১-২ বার পর্যালোচনা করো।
- ব্যাকরণ ও বানান ভুল ঠিক করো।
- 8. ফাইনাল কপি তৈরি করো:
 - উপরের সবকিছু ঠিকঠাক করার পর পরিকার একটি ফেয়ার কপি লিখো।

 দৈর্ঘ্য সংক্রান্ত নির্দেশনা

- নির্দিষ্ট কিছু না বলা থাকলে, সাধারণত প্রায় ১০০ শব্দ হলেই চলো।
- তবে যদি নির্দিষ্ট শব্দসংখ্যা দেওয়া থাকে, সেটি অবশ্যই মেনে চলতে হবে

1.Strike while the iron is hot/ Make hay while the sun shines/ Seize the opportunity/ Opportunity knocks but once

The proverb “Strike while the iron is hot” teaches us the importance of taking advantage of opportunities at the right time. It comes from the work of a blacksmith, who hammers and shapes iron only when it is red-hot and soft. If the iron cools, it becomes hard and difficult to mold. Similarly, in life, there are moments when we must act quickly and wisely to get the best results. If we hesitate or delay, the opportunity may be lost forever.

This proverb reminds us that time and timing are very important in life. Opportunities do not wait for anyone. When a good chance comes, we must be ready to take it. For example, a student should focus on studying when exams are near, instead of wasting time. A farmer must sow seeds when the season is right. A businessman should invest or make decisions when the market conditions are favorable. In each case, success depends not only on hard work but also on acting at the right moment.

It also teaches us to be alert and aware of our surroundings. Being lazy or careless can cost us a lot. Sometimes we regret missing a good opportunity simply because we waited too long or were unsure.

In conclusion, “Strike while the iron is hot” is a wise saying that encourages quick and timely action. It tells us to take advantage of every good opportunity without delay. If we act on time, we can shape our future just like a blacksmith shapes the iron.

১. লোহা গরম থাকা অবস্থায় আঘাত করো

“লোহা গরম থাকা অবস্থায় আঘাত করো” প্রবাদটি আমাদের সঠিক সময়ে সুযোগের সদ্ব্যবহারের গুরুত্ব শেখায়। এটি একজন কামারের কাজ থেকে এসেছে, যিনি লোহাকে কেবল তখনই হাতুড়ি দিয়ে আকৃতি দেন যখন তা লাল-গরম এবং নরম থাকে। লোহা ঠান্ডা হলে, এটি শক্ত হয়ে যায় এবং ছাঁচে ফেলা কঠিন হয়ে পড়ে। একইভাবে, জীবনে, এমন কিছু মুহূর্ত আসে যখন আমাদের সর্বোত্তম ফলাফল পেতে দ্রুত এবং বুদ্ধিমানের সাথে কাজ করতে হয়। যদি আমরা দ্বিধা করি বা বিলম্ব করি, তাহলে সুযোগটি চিরতরে হারিয়ে যেতে পারে।

এই প্রবাদটি আমাদের মনে করিয়ে দেয় যে সময় এবং সময় জীবনে খুবই গুরুত্বপূর্ণ। সুযোগ কারও জন্য অপেক্ষা করে না। যখন একটি ভালো সুযোগ আসে, তখন আমাদের তা গ্রহণ করার জন্য প্রস্তুত থাকতে হবে। উদাহরণস্বরূপ, একজন শিক্ষার্থীর সময় নষ্ট করার পরিবর্তে পরীক্ষা কাছে আসার সময় পড়াশোনায় মনোনিবেশ করা উচিত। একজন কৃষককে সঠিক মৌসুমে বীজ বপন করতে হবে। একজন ব্যবসায়ীর উচিত বাজারের পরিস্থিতি অনুকূল হলে বিনিয়োগ করা বা সিদ্ধান্ত নেওয়া। প্রতিটি ক্ষেত্রেই সাফল্য কেবল কঠোর পরিশ্রমের উপর নয়, সঠিক মুহূর্তে কাজ করার উপরও নির্ভর করে।

এটি আমাদের আমাদের আশেপাশের পরিবেশ সম্পর্কে সতর্ক এবং সচেতন থাকতে শেখায়। অলস বা অসাবধান থাকা আমাদের অনেক ক্ষতি করতে পারে। কখনও কখনও আমরা খুব বেশি অপেক্ষা করেছিলাম বা অনিশ্চিত ছিলাম বলে একটি ভালো সুযোগ হাতছাড়া করার জন্য অনুতপ্ত হই।

পরিশেষে, “লোহা গরম থাকাকালীন আঘাত করো” একটি বিজ্ঞ উক্তি যা দ্রুত এবং সময়োপযোগী পদক্ষেপ নিতে উৎসাহিত করে। এটি আমাদেরকে বিলম্ব না করে প্রতিটি ভালো সুযোগের সদ্ব্যবহার করতে বলে। আমরা যদি সময়মতো কাজ করি, তাহলে আমরা আমাদের ভবিষ্যৎ গঠন করতে পারি ঠিক যেমন একজন কামার লোহা গঠন করে।

2.Don't judge a book by its cover/ Appearances can be deceiving/ All that glitters is not gold/ Looks can be misleading

The proverb “Don't judge a book by its cover” teaches us not to form opinions about people or things just by looking at their outward appearance. A book may have a plain or unattractive cover, but its content might be interesting and valuable. In the same way, a person may not look impressive on the outside, but inside, they may have great qualities like kindness, intelligence, or honesty.

In daily life, we often make quick judgments based on looks, clothes, or speech. However, these things do not show a person's true nature or abilities. For example, a student who looks shy and quiet may be the smartest in class. A poor man wearing simple clothes might have a heart full of wisdom and kindness. Judging people based on their appearance can lead to misunderstandings and unfair treatment.

This proverb teaches us to look deeper and understand people or situations before making a decision. Just like we need to read a book to know its story, we need to take time to know someone before forming an opinion. True beauty and value often lie within, not on the surface.

In conclusion, “Don’t judge a book by its cover” is a wise reminder to be open-minded and fair. We should not judge anyone or anything just by appearance. By doing so, we learn to appreciate the inner qualities of people and find hidden value in simple things. It helps build a kinder and more thoughtful world.

২. প্রচ্ছদ দেখে বই বিচার করো না

"প্রচ্ছদ দেখে বই বিচার করো না" প্রবাদটি আমাদের শেখায় যে কেবল বাহ্যিক চেহারা দেখে মানুষ বা জিনিস সম্পর্কে মতামত তৈরি করা উচিত নয়। একটি বইয়ের প্রচ্ছদ সাদামাটা বা অপ্রাসঙ্গিক হতে পারে, তবে এর বিষয়বস্তু আকর্ষণীয় এবং মূল্যবান হতে পারে। একইভাবে, একজন ব্যক্তি বাইরে থেকে চিত্তাকর্ষক নাও দেখাতে পারে, কিন্তু ভিতরে, তার মধ্যে দয়া, বুদ্ধিমত্তা বা সত্যের মতো দুর্দান্ত গুণাবলী থাকতে পারে।

দৈনন্দিন জীবনে, আমরা প্রায়শই চেহারা, পোশাক বা কথাবার্তার উপর ভিত্তি করে দ্রুত বিচার করি। তবে, এই জিনিসগুলি একজন ব্যক্তির আসল স্বভাব বা ক্ষমতা দেখায় না। উদাহরণস্বরূপ, লাজুক এবং শান্ত চেহারার একজন ছাত্র ক্লাসে সবচেয়ে বুদ্ধিমান হতে পারে। সাধারণ পোশাক পরা একজন দরিদ্র ব্যক্তির হৃদয় প্রজ্ঞা এবং দয়ায় পরিপূর্ণ হতে পারে। চেহারা দেখে লোকেদের বিচার করলে ভুল বোঝাবুঝি এবং অন্যায় আচরণের সৃষ্টি হতে পারে।

এই প্রবাদটি আমাদের শেখায় যে সিদ্ধান্ত নেওয়ার আগে মানুষ বা পরিস্থিতি আরও গভীরভাবে দেখতে হবে এবং বুঝতে হবে। ঠিক যেমন আমাদের একটি বইয়ের গল্প জানার জন্য বই পড়তে হবে, তেমনি মতামত তৈরি করার আগে কাউকে জানার জন্য আমাদের সময় নিতে হবে। প্রকৃত সৌন্দর্য এবং মূল্য প্রায়শই ভিতরে থাকে, পৃষ্ঠে নয়।

উপসংহারে, "একটি বইয়ের প্রচ্ছদ দেখে বিচার করো না" খোলা মনের এবং ন্যায্য হওয়ার জন্য একটি বিজ্ঞ অনুস্মারক। আমাদের কেবল চেহারা দেখে কাউকে বা কিছু বিচার করা উচিত নয়। এটি করার মাধ্যমে, আমরা মানুষের অভ্যন্তরীণ গুণাবলী উপলব্ধি করতে শিখি এবং সহজ জিনিসগুলিতে লুকানো মূল্য খুঁজে পাই। এটি একটি দয়ালু এবং আরও চিন্তাশীল পৃথিবী গড়ে তুলতে সাহায্য করে।

3. Better late than never/ It's never too late to mend/ A late start is better than no start/ Slow progress is better than no progress

The proverb “Better late than never” means it is always better to do something, even if it is delayed, rather than not doing it at all. Sometimes in life, we miss the right time to do a task or take action. But instead of giving up, we should still try. Doing something late is still more valuable than never doing it.

This saying teaches us not to be afraid or ashamed if we are late in doing something important. For example, a person may start studying seriously just before the exams. Though it is late, it is still better than not studying at all. Someone may begin learning a skill or reading a book at an older age. Even though the time is not early, they will still gain something useful.

Often people regret missing the right moment, and then they stop trying. But this proverb gives hope and motivation. It encourages us to act, even if the time has passed. It is better to reach a goal slowly than to quit halfway. It reminds us that trying is always better than ignoring.

In real life, we face many situations where we delay things. This proverb helps us remember that effort, even if delayed, still brings value. It is never too late to apologize, forgive, learn, or improve.

In conclusion, “Better late than never” teaches us to keep going and not give up. It is always better to do something, even if it's late, than to do nothing at all.

3. কখনও না করার চেয়ে দেরিতে ভালো

"কখনও না করার চেয়ে দেরিতে ভালো" প্রবাদটির অর্থ হল কিছু করা, এমনকি যদি তা একেবারেই না করা হয়, তবুও তা করা সর্বদা ভালো। জীবনে কখনও কখনও, আমরা কোনও কাজ করার বা পদক্ষেপ নেওয়ার জন্য সঠিক সময় মিস করি। কিন্তু হাল ছেড়ে দেওয়ার পরিবর্তে, আমাদের এখনও চেষ্টা করা উচিত। দেরিতে কিছু করা এখনও তা না করার চেয়ে মূল্যবান।

এই প্রবাদটি আমাদের শেখায় যে গুরুত্বপূর্ণ কিছু করতে দেরি হলে ভয় বা লজ্জিত না হওয়া। উদাহরণস্বরূপ, একজন ব্যক্তি পরীক্ষার ঠিক আগে গুরুত্ব সহকারে পড়াশোনা শুরু করতে পারেন। যদিও দেরি হয়ে গেছে, তবুও এটি একেবারেই পড়াশোনা না করার চেয়ে ভাল। কেউ হয়তো বড় বয়সে কোনও দক্ষতা শেখা বা বই পড়া শুরু করতে পারে। যদিও সময়টি তাড়াতাড়ি নয়, তবুও তারা কার্যকর কিছু অর্জন করবে।

প্রায়শই লোকেরা সঠিক মুহূর্তটি মিস করার জন্য অনুশোচনা করে এবং তারপরে তারা চেষ্টা করা বন্ধ করে দেয়। কিন্তু এই প্রবাদটি আশা এবং প্রেরণা দেয়। এটি আমাদের কাজ করতে উৎসাহিত করে, এমনকি সময় অতিবাহিত হলেও। মাঝপথে হাল ছেড়ে দেওয়ার চেয়ে ধীরে ধীরে লক্ষ্যে পৌঁছানো ভালো। এটি আমাদের মনে করিয়ে দেয় যে চেষ্টা করা সর্বদা উপেক্ষা করার চেয়ে ভালো।

বাস্তব জীবনে, আমরা এমন অনেক পরিস্থিতির মুখোমুখি হই যেখানে আমরা জিনিস বিলম্বিত করি। এই প্রবাদটি আমাদের মনে রাখতে সাহায্য করে যে প্রচেষ্টা, এমনকি বিলম্বিত হলেও, মূল্য নিয়ে আসে। ক্ষমা চাওয়া, ক্ষমা করা, শেখা বা উন্নতি করা কখনই দেরি হয় না।

উপসংহারে, "কখনো না হওয়ার চেয়ে দেরি ভালো" আমাদের হাল না ছেড়ে চলতে শেখায়। কিছু না করার চেয়ে, দেরি হলেও কিছু করা সবসময় ভালো।

4. Rome wasn't built in a day/ Great things take time/ Patience is a virtue/ Success doesn't happen overnight

The proverb "Rome wasn't built in a day" means that great things take time, effort, and patience to achieve. Rome was one of the most powerful and beautiful cities in history, but it took many years to build. In the same way, big goals in life cannot be reached quickly. Success, progress, and development all require time and continuous hard work.

This saying teaches us the value of patience and steady effort. Many people want quick results, but true achievements come slowly. For example, a student cannot become a topper in one day. They must study regularly for months or years. A strong building needs time to be planned and built properly. Similarly, learning a skill, growing a business, or improving health all need time and dedication.

Often, people feel frustrated when they don't see quick results. But this proverb reminds us not to lose hope. We must keep working and trust the process. Small steps every day lead to big success in the future.

It also teaches us to be realistic in our expectations. We should not expect instant success. Instead, we should focus on working hard and being patient. Over time, our efforts will give results.

In conclusion, "Rome wasn't built in a day" reminds us that great things cannot be rushed. We must be patient, consistent, and hardworking. With time, even the biggest dreams can come true. So, we should never give up, even if success seems slow.

৪. রোম একদিনে তৈরি হয়নি

"রোম একদিনে তৈরি হয়নি" প্রবাদটির অর্থ হল, মহান জিনিস অর্জনের জন্য সময়, প্রচেষ্টা এবং ধৈর্য লাগে। রোম ইতিহাসের সবচেয়ে শক্তিশালী এবং সুন্দর শহরগুলির মধ্যে একটি ছিল, কিন্তু এটি তৈরি করতে অনেক বছর লেগেছিল। একইভাবে, জীবনের বড় লক্ষ্য দ্রুত অর্জন করা যায় না। সাফল্য, অগ্রগতি এবং উন্নয়নের জন্য সময় এবং অবিরাম কঠোর পরিশ্রমের প্রয়োজন।

এই প্রবাদটি আমাদের ধৈর্য এবং অবিচল প্রচেষ্টার মূল্য শেখায়। অনেকেই দ্রুত ফলাফল চান, কিন্তু প্রকৃত সাফল্য ধীরে ধীরে আসে। উদাহরণস্বরূপ, একজন শিক্ষার্থী একদিনে শীর্ষস্থান অর্জন করতে পারে না। তাদের মাস বা বছর ধরে নিয়মিত পড়াশোনা করতে হবে। একটি শক্তিশালী ভবন সঠিকভাবে পরিকল্পনা এবং নির্মাণের জন্য সময় প্রয়োজন। একইভাবে, একটি দক্ষতা শেখা, একটি ব্যবসা বৃদ্ধি করা, অথবা স্বাস্থ্য পরীক্ষা করার জন্য সময় এবং নিষ্ঠার প্রয়োজন।

প্রায়শই, মানুষ যখন দ্রুত ফলাফল দেখতে পায় না, তখন তারা হতাশ হয়। কিন্তু এই প্রবাদটি আমাদের মনে করিয়ে দেয় যে আশা হারিয়ে ফেলা উচিত নয়। আমাদের কাজ চালিয়ে যেতে হবে এবং প্রক্রিয়ার উপর আস্থা রাখতে হবে। প্রতিদিন ছোট ছোট পদক্ষেপে ভবিষ্যতে বড় সাফল্যের দিকে নিয়ে যায়।

এটি আমাদের প্রত্যাশা বাস্তববাদী হতেও শেখায়। আমাদের তাৎক্ষণিক সাফল্য আশা করা উচিত নয়। পরিবর্তে, আমাদের কঠোর পরিশ্রম এবং ধৈর্যশীল হওয়ার উপর মনোনিবেশ করা উচিত। সময়ের সাথে সাথে, আমাদের প্রচেষ্টা ফল দেবে।

পরিশেষে, "রোম একদিনে তৈরি হয়নি" আমাদের মনে করিয়ে দেয় যে মহান জিনিস ত্যাগ ছাড়া করা যায় না। আমাদের ধৈর্যশীল, ধারাবাহিক এবং পরিশ্রমী হতে হবে। সময়ের সাথে সাথে, এমনকি সবচেয়ে বড় স্বপ্নও বাস্তবে রূপ নিতে পারে। তাই, সাফল্য ধীর মনে হলেও আমাদের কখনই হাল ছেড়ে দেওয়া উচিত নয়।

5. Actions speak louder than words/ Talk is cheap/ Deeds, not words/ What you do is more important than what you say

The proverb "Actions speak louder than words" means that what people do is more important than what they say. Words are easy to speak, but actions show a person's true character, feelings, and intentions. A person may promise to do something, but unless they actually do it, the promise has no value.

This proverb teaches us that actions are the real proof of honesty, love, kindness, or hard work. For example, a student may say they want to do well in exams, but if they don't study, their words mean nothing. A friend may say they care about you, but their care is only real if they help you when you are in trouble. Even leaders are judged by what they do for the people, not just by their speeches.

It is easy to make promises, but keeping them is harder. That is why people trust actions more than words. When someone acts in a good way, it builds trust and respect. On the other hand, if a person says one thing and does another, people stop believing them.

This proverb also encourages us to show our values through our behavior. Instead of talking too much, we should do what is right. Good actions leave a strong impact and set an example for others.

In conclusion, "Actions speak louder than words" teaches us to value behavior more than talk. People will remember what we did more than what we said. So, let our actions show who we truly are.

৫. কর্ম শব্দের চেয়ে জোরে কথা বলে

"কর্ম শব্দের চেয়ে জোরে কথা বলে" প্রবাদটির অর্থ হল মানুষ যা করে তা তার কথার চেয়ে বেশি গুরুত্বপূর্ণ। কথা বলা সহজ, কিন্তু কর্ম একজন ব্যক্তির প্রকৃত চরিত্র, অনুভূতি এবং উদ্দেশ্য প্রদর্শন করে। একজন ব্যক্তি হয়তো কিছু করার প্রতিশ্রুতি দিতে পারেন, কিন্তু যদি না তারা বাস্তবে তা করে, তাহলে প্রতিশ্রুতির কোন মূল্য থাকে না।

এই প্রবাদটি আমাদের শেখায় যে কাজই সত্যতা, ভালোবাসা, দয়া বা কঠোর পরিশ্রমের আসল প্রমাণ। উদাহরণস্বরূপ, একজন ছাত্র হয়তো বলতে পারে যে তারা পরীক্ষায় ভালো করতে চায়, কিন্তু যদি তারা পড়াশোনা না করে, তাহলে তাদের কথার কোন মূল্য নেই। একজন বন্ধু হয়তো বলতে পারে যে তারা তোমার জন্য চিন্তা করে, কিন্তু তাদের যত্ন তখনই আসল যখন তারা তোমার বিপদের সময় তোমাকে সাহায্য করে। এমনকি নেতারাও তাদের বক্তৃতা দিয়ে নয়, জনগণের জন্য তারা যা করে তা দিয়ে বিচার করা হয়।

প্রতিশ্রুতি দেওয়া সহজ, কিন্তু তা পালন করা কঠিন। এই কারণেই মানুষ কথার চেয়ে কর্মে বেশি বিশ্বাস করে। যখন কেউ ভালোভাবে কাজ করে, তখন বিশ্বাস এবং শ্রদ্ধা তৈরি হয়। অন্যদিকে, যদি কেউ একটা কথা বলে এবং অন্যটা করে, তাহলে মানুষ তাদের বিশ্বাস করা বন্ধ করে দেয়।

এই প্রবাদটি আমাদের আচরণের মাধ্যমে আমাদের মূল্যবোধ প্রদর্শন করতে উৎসাহিত করে। অতিরিক্ত কথা বলার পরিবর্তে, আমাদের যা সঠিক তা করা উচিত। ভালো কাজ একটি শক্তিশালী প্রভাব ফেলে এবং অন্যদের জন্য একটি উদাহরণ স্থাপন করে।

উপসংহারে, "কর্ম কথার চেয়ে জোরে কথা বলে" আমাদের কথার চেয়ে আচরণকে বেশি মূল্য দিতে শেখায়। মানুষ আমরা যা বলেছি তার চেয়ে আমরা কী করেছি তা বেশি মনে রাখবে। তাই, আমাদের কাজগুলিকে দেখাতে দিন আমরা আসলে কে।

6. The forbidden fruit is always the sweetest

The proverb "The forbidden fruit is always the sweetest" means that people are often more attracted to things they are not allowed to have. When something is forbidden or restricted, it becomes more tempting and desirable, even if it is not good for us. This idea comes from the story of Adam and Eve in the Bible, where they were told not to eat the fruit from a certain tree, but that fruit became the one they most wanted.

In daily life, this can be seen in many ways. Children often want to play with toys they are told not to touch. Students may feel more excited to skip class than attend it. Adults may be tempted to do things that are risky or against the rules, simply because they are told not to. The restriction itself makes the thing feel more special or exciting.

This proverb teaches us about human nature. When we are told we cannot have something, our curiosity and desire increase. But often, the things that are forbidden are harmful or dangerous. That is why rules and limits are set—to protect us. Still, people sometimes ignore the danger because they are drawn to what is "not allowed."

In conclusion, "The forbidden fruit is always the sweetest" reminds us to think carefully before chasing something just because it is restricted. Not everything that seems attractive is good for us. We should learn to control our desires and understand the reasons behind rules and limits.

৬. নিষিদ্ধ ফল সর্বদা সবচেয়ে মিষ্টি

"নিষিদ্ধ ফল সর্বদা সবচেয়ে মিষ্টি" প্রবাদটির অর্থ হল, মানুষ প্রায়শই এমন জিনিসের প্রতি বেশি আকৃষ্ট হয় যা তাদের খেতে দেওয়া হয় না। যখন কিছু নিষিদ্ধ বা সীমাবদ্ধ করা হয়, তখন তা আরও লোভনীয় এবং আকর্ষিত হয়ে ওঠে, এমনকি যদি তা আমাদের জন্য ভালো নাও হয়। এই ধারণাটি বাইবেলে আদাম এবং হবার গল্প থেকে এসেছে, যেখানে তাদের একটি নির্দিষ্ট গাছের ফল খেতে নিষেধ করা হয়েছিল, কিন্তু সেই ফলটিই তাদের সবচেয়ে বেশি পছন্দের হয়ে ওঠে।

দৈনন্দিন জীবনে, এটি বিভিন্ন উপায়ে দেখা যায়। শিশুরা প্রায়শই এমন খেলনা নিয়ে খেলতে চায় যা তাদের স্পর্শ করতে নিষেধ করা হয়। শিক্ষার্থীরা ক্লাসে যোগদানের চেয়ে এড়িয়ে যেতে বেশি উত্তেজিত বোধ করতে পারে। প্রাপ্তবয়স্করা ঝুঁকিপূর্ণ বা নিয়মবিরোধী কাজ করতে প্রলুব্ধ হতে পারে, কেবল কারণ তাদের বলা হয় না। এই নিষেধাজ্ঞা নিজেই জিনিসটিকে আরও বিশেষ বা উত্তেজনাপূর্ণ করে তোলে।

এই প্রবাদটি আমাদের মানব প্রকৃতি সম্পর্কে শেখায়। যখন আমাদের বলা হয় যে আমরা কিছু পেতে পারি না, তখন আমাদের কৌতূহল এবং আকাঙ্ক্ষা বৃদ্ধি পায়। কিন্তু প্রায়শই, নিষিদ্ধ জিনিসগুলি ক্ষতিকারক বা বিপজ্জনক। সেই কারণেই নিয়ম এবং সীমা নির্ধারণ করা হয় - আমাদের রক্ষা করার জন্য। তবুও, মানুষ কখনও কখনও বিপদকে উপেক্ষা করে কারণ তারা "অনুমোদিত" বিষয়ের প্রতি আকৃষ্ট হয়।

উপসংহারে, "নিষিদ্ধ ফল সর্বদা সবচেয়ে মিষ্টি" আমাদের মনে করিয়ে দেয় যে কোনও কিছুর পিছনে তাড়া করার আগে সাবধানে চিন্তা করতে হবে কারণ এটি সীমাবদ্ধ। আকর্ষণীয় বলে মনে হয় এমন সবকিছুই আমাদের জন্য ভালো নয়। আমাদের আমাদের আকাঙ্ক্ষা নিয়ন্ত্রণ করতে শেখা উচিত এবং নিয়ম এবং সীমার পিছনের কারণগুলি বুঝতে হবে।

7. Learn to walk before you run/ Don't run before you can walk/ Start with the basics/ Crawl before you walk

The proverb "Learn to walk before you run" means that we should learn and master the basics before trying to do advanced things. Just like a baby learns to walk slowly before running, in life too, we must take small steps before making big moves. Trying to do something difficult without proper practice or knowledge can lead to failure or harm.

This saying is very useful in everyday life. For example, a student must understand simple lessons before moving to harder topics. If someone wants to play a musical instrument, they must first learn the basic notes and techniques before playing complex songs. In sports, a player needs to train step by step to build strength and skill before joining big competitions.

The proverb teaches us the importance of patience, practice, and learning in the right order. Many people want quick success, but without the right foundation, progress is weak. When we rush, we may make mistakes, lose confidence, or even give up. But if we move step by step, we grow stronger and more confident.

It also teaches us to be humble and realistic. Everyone has to start from the beginning. No one becomes an expert in one day. Success comes with time, effort, and steady learning.

In conclusion, “Learn to walk before you run” is a wise reminder to take things slowly and carefully. When we build a strong foundation first, we are better prepared for greater success later.

৭. দৌড়ানোর আগে হাঁটতে শিখুন

“দৌড়ানোর আগে হাঁটতে শিখুন” প্রবাদটির অর্থ হল উন্নত জিনিসগুলি করার চেষ্টা করার আগে আমাদের মৌলিক বিষয়গুলি শিখতে হবে এবং আয়ত্ত করতে হবে। ঠিক যেমন একটি শিশু দৌড়ানোর আগে ধীরে ধীরে হাঁটতে শেখে, জীবনেও, বড় পদক্ষেপ নেওয়ার আগে আমাদের ছোট পদক্ষেপ নিতে হবে। সঠিক অনুশীলন বা জ্ঞান ছাড়া কঠিন কিছু করার চেষ্টা ব্যর্থতা বা ক্ষতির দিকে নিয়ে যেতে পারে।

এই উক্তিটি দৈনন্দিন জীবনে খুবই কার্যকর। উদাহরণস্বরূপ, একজন শিক্ষার্থীকে কঠিন বিষয়গুলিতে যাওয়ার আগে সহজ পাঠগুলি বুঝতে হবে। যদি কেউ কোন বাদ্যযন্ত্র বাজাতে চায়, তাহলে তাকে জটিল গান বাজানোর আগে প্রথমে মৌলিক স্বরলিপি এবং কৌশল শিখতে হবে। খেলাধুলায়, একজন খেলোয়াড়কে বড় প্রতিযোগিতায় যোগদানের আগে শক্তি এবং দক্ষতা তৈরি করার জন্য ধাপে ধাপে প্রশিক্ষণ নিতে হবে।

প্রবাদটি আমাদের ধৈর্য, অনুশীলন এবং সঠিক ক্রমে শেখার গুরুত্ব শেখায়। অনেকেই দ্রুত সাফল্য চান, কিন্তু সঠিক ভিত্তি ছাড়া অগ্রগতি দুর্বল। যখন আমরা তাড়াহুড়ো করি, তখন আমরা ভুল করতে পারি, আত্মবিশ্বাস হারিয়ে ফেলতে পারি, এমনকি হাল ছেড়ে দিতে পারি। কিন্তু যদি আমরা ধাপে ধাপে এগিয়ে যাই, তাহলে আমরা আরও শক্তিশালী এবং আত্মবিশ্বাসী হয়ে উঠি।

এটি আমাদের নম্র এবং বাস্তববাদী হতেও শেখায়। প্রত্যেককে শুরু থেকেই শুরু করতে হয়। কেউ একদিনে বিশেষজ্ঞ হয় না। সাফল্য সময়, প্রচেষ্টা এবং অবিচলিত শেখার সাথে আসে।

উপসংহারে, “দৌড়ানোর আগে হাঁটতে শিখুন” হল ধীরে ধীরে এবং সাবধানে জিনিসগুলি নেওয়ার জন্য একটি বুদ্ধিমান অনুসারক। যখন আমরা প্রথমে একটি শক্তিশালী ভিত্তি তৈরি করি, তখন আমরা দুর্দান্ত কিছুর জন্য আরও ভালভাবে প্রস্তুত থাকি পরে সাফল্য আসবে।

8. Honesty is the best policy

The proverb “Honesty is the best policy” means that being truthful and sincere in all situations is the wisest and most effective way to live. When we are honest, people trust us and respect us. Even if truth may seem hard or may bring problems at first, in the end, it always brings peace and success.

Honesty means speaking the truth, keeping promises, and doing the right thing, even when no one is watching. A student who admits they made a mistake instead of lying shows courage and builds trust. In friendships and family, honesty keeps relationships strong. People feel safe when they know others are truthful.

Sometimes, people lie to avoid trouble or to gain something quickly. But lies often create bigger problems later. A small lie can grow into many lies, and it becomes hard to manage. Once someone is caught lying, others stop trusting them, and it takes a long time to rebuild that trust.

This proverb also teaches us to be honest with ourselves. We should accept our faults and try to improve. Honesty helps build good character, discipline, and self-respect.

In the long run, honest people live more peaceful lives. They do not have to fear being caught in lies. They gain true success, which comes from clean actions and a clear heart.

In conclusion, “Honesty is the best policy” teaches us that truthfulness leads to trust, respect, and lasting success. It is always better to be honest than to take the easy path of lies.

৮. সত্যতাই সর্বোত্তম নীতি

“সত্যতাই সর্বোত্তম নীতি” প্রবাদটির অর্থ হল, সকল পরিস্থিতিতে সত্যবাদী এবং আন্তরিক থাকাই জীবনের সবচেয়ে বুদ্ধিমান এবং কার্যকর উপায়। আমরা যখন সৎ থাকি, তখন লোকেরা আমাদের বিশ্বাস করে এবং সম্মান করে। যদিও সত্য প্রথমে কঠিন মনে হয় বা সমস্যা তৈরি করতে পারে, শেষ পর্যন্ত এটি সর্বদা শান্তি এবং সাফল্য নিয়ে আসে।

সত্যতার অর্থ হল সত্য বলা, প্রতিশ্রুতি রাখা এবং সঠিক কাজ করা, এমনকি যখন কেউ দেখছে না। যে ছাত্র মিথ্যা বলার পরিবর্তে ভুল করেছে বলে স্বীকার করে সে সাহস দেখায় এবং বিশ্বাস তৈরি করে। বন্ধুত্ব এবং পরিবারে, সত্যতা সম্পর্কে শক্তিশালী রাখে। মানুষ যখন জানে যে অন্যরা সত্যবাদী, তখন তারা নিরাপদ বোধ করে।

কখনও কখনও, মানুষ ব্যামেলা এড়াতে বা দ্রুত কিছু অর্জনের জন্য মিথ্যা বলে। কিন্তু মিথ্যা প্রায়শই পরে বড় সমস্যা তৈরি করে। একটি ছোট মিথ্যা অনেক মিথ্যায় পরিণত হতে পারে এবং তা পরিচালনা করা কঠিন হয়ে পড়ে। একবার কেউ মিথ্যা বলার সময় ধরা পড়লে, অন্যরা তাদের উপর বিশ্বাস করা বন্ধ করে দেয় এবং সেই বিশ্বাস পুনর্নির্মাণ করতে অনেক সময় লাগে।

এই প্রবাদটি আমাদের নিজেদের সাথে সং থাকতেও শেখায়। আমাদের নিজেদের দোষ স্বীকার করা উচিত এবং উন্নতি করার চেষ্টা করা উচিত। সততা ভালো চরিত্র, শৃঙ্খলা এবং আত্মসম্মান গড়ে তুলতে সাহায্য করে।

দীর্ঘমেয়াদে, সং লোকেরা আরও শান্তিপূর্ণ জীবনযাপন করে। তাদের মিথ্যার ফাঁদে পড়ার ভয় থাকে না। তারা প্রকৃত সাফল্য অর্জন করে, যা পরিষ্কার কর্ম এবং পরিষ্কার হৃদয় থেকে আসে।

পরিশেষে, "সততাই সর্বোত্তম নীতি" আমাদের শেখায় যে সত্যবাদিতা আস্থা, শ্রদ্ধা এবং স্থায়ী সাফল্যের দিকে পরিচালিত করে। মিথ্যার সহজ পথ অবলম্বন করার চেয়ে সং থাকা সর্বদা ভালো।

9. Self-help is the best help

The proverb "Self-help is the best help" means that helping yourself is better than depending on others. When we try to solve our own problems, we become stronger, more confident, and independent. Waiting for others to help us may waste time, and they may not always be able or willing to help.

This saying teaches us the value of hard work and personal effort. For example, if a student studies by themselves and clears their doubts, they will understand better and remember more. If someone is facing a problem, and they think calmly and act wisely, they will find a solution faster. Relying too much on others can make us lazy and weak.

Self-help does not mean we should never accept help, but we should first try to do things on our own. If we make a habit of self-help, we learn important life skills like decision-making, problem-solving, and discipline. These qualities help us succeed in life.

Great people in history often succeeded because they believed in self-help. They worked hard, faced difficulties, and reached their goals with their own efforts. Their lives inspire us to depend on our own strength.

In conclusion, "Self-help is the best help" reminds us that the best support comes from within. When we believe in ourselves and take action, we can achieve great things. So, we should always try to help ourselves first before depending on others.

৯. আত্ম-সহায়তাই সর্বোত্তম সাহায্য

"আত্ম-সহায়তাই সর্বোত্তম সাহায্য" প্রবাদটির অর্থ হল অন্যদের উপর নির্ভর করার চেয়ে নিজেকে সাহায্য করা ভালো। যখন আমরা আমাদের নিজস্ব সমস্যা সমাধানের চেষ্টা করি, তখন আমরা আরও শক্তিশালী, আরও আত্মবিশ্বাসী এবং স্বাধীন হয়ে উঠি। অন্যদের সাহায্যের জন্য অপেক্ষা করা সময় নষ্ট করতে পারে এবং তারা সবসময় সাহায্য করতে সক্ষম বা ইচ্ছুক নাও হতে পারে।

এই উক্তিটি আমাদের কঠোর পরিশ্রম এবং ব্যক্তিগত প্রচেষ্টার মূল্য শেখায়। উদাহরণস্বরূপ, যদি একজন শিক্ষার্থী নিজে নিজে পড়াশোনা করে এবং তাদের সন্দেহ দূর করে, তাহলে তারা আরও ভালভাবে বুঝতে পারবে এবং আরও মনে রাখতে পারবে। যদি কেউ কোনও সমস্যার মুখোমুখি হয়, এবং তারা শান্তভাবে চিন্তা করে এবং বিজ্ঞতার সাথে কাজ করে, তাহলে তারা দ্রুত সমাধান খুঁজে পাবে। অন্যের উপর অতিরিক্ত নির্ভরশীলতা আমাদের অলস এবং দুর্বল করে তুলতে পারে।

আত্ম-সহায়তার অর্থ এই নয় যে আমাদের কখনই সাহায্য গ্রহণ করা উচিত নয়, তবে আমাদের প্রথমে নিজেরাই কাজ করার চেষ্টা করা উচিত। যদি আমরা আত্ম-সহায়তার অভ্যাস গড়ে তুলি, তাহলে আমরা সিদ্ধান্ত গ্রহণ, সমস্যা সমাধান এবং শৃঙ্খলার মতো গুরুত্বপূর্ণ জীবন দক্ষতা শিখি। এই গুণাবলী আমাদের জীবনে সফল হতে সাহায্য করে।

ইতিহাসের মহান ব্যক্তিত্বরা প্রায়শই সফল হয়েছেন কারণ তারা আত্ম-সহায়তায় বিশ্বাস করতেন। তারা কঠোর পরিশ্রম করেছিলেন, অসুবিধার মুখোমুখি হয়েছিলেন এবং তাদের নিজস্ব প্রচেষ্টা দিয়ে তাদের লক্ষ্যে পৌঁছাতে পেরেছিলেন। তাদের জীবন আমাদের নিজেদের শক্তির উপর নির্ভর করতে অনুপ্রাণিত করে।

উপসংহারে, "আত্ম-সহায়তাই সর্বোত্তম সাহায্য" আমাদের মনে করিয়ে দেয় যে সর্বোত্তম সমর্থন ভেতর থেকে আসে। যখন আমরা নিজেদের উপর বিশ্বাস করি এবং পদক্ষেপ নিই, তখন আমরা মহান জিনিস অর্জন করতে পারি। তাই, আমাদের সর্বদা অন্যদের উপর নির্ভর করার আগে প্রথমে নিজেদের সাহায্য করার চেষ্টা করা উচিত।

10. All that glitters is not gold.

The saying "All that glitters is not gold" means that not everything that looks beautiful or valuable is truly good or honest. Gold shines brightly and is very valuable. But not everything that shines like gold is real gold. In the same way, in life, many things may look attractive on the outside but may not be good on the inside.

For example, a person may wear nice clothes and speak very politely. But that does not mean they are kind or honest. Some people pretend to be good, but their actions show their true nature. Also, an offer that seems too good to be true may turn out to be a trick or a lie. That is why we must be careful and not trust everything just because it looks nice or sounds good.

This proverb teaches us not to judge things or people only by their outer appearance. We should take time to understand the real truth before making a decision. Many times, something simple and plain may be more valuable than something shiny and loud.

In today's world, where people often care too much about looks, money, and fame, this message is very important. True beauty comes from within — from honesty, kindness, and good character.

In conclusion, “All that glitters is not gold” tells us to look deeper and think wisely. Not everything that shines is valuable, and not everything valuable needs to shine.

১০. যা কিছু জ্বলে তা সোনা নয়।

"যা কিছু জ্বলে তা সোনা নয়" এই কথাটির অর্থ হল যা কিছু সুন্দর বা মূল্যবান দেখায় তা সত্যিই ভালো বা সৎ নয়। সোনা উজ্জ্বলভাবে জ্বলে এবং অত্যন্ত মূল্যবান। কিন্তু যা কিছু সোনার মতো জ্বলে তা আসল সোনা নয়। একইভাবে, জীবনে, অনেক কিছুই বাইরে থেকে আকর্ষণীয় দেখাতে পারে কিন্তু ভেতরে ভালো নাও হতে পারে।

উদাহরণস্বরূপ, একজন ব্যক্তি হয়তো সুন্দর পোশাক পরেন এবং খুব ভদ্রভাবে কথা বলেন। কিন্তু এর অর্থ এই নয় যে তারা দয়ালু বা সৎ। কিছু মানুষ ভালো থাকার ভান করে, কিন্তু তাদের কাজ তাদের আসল স্বভাব প্রকাশ করে। এছাড়াও, এমন একটি প্রস্তাব যা সত্য বলে মনে হয় না তা কৌশল বা মিথ্যা হতে পারে। তাই আমাদের সতর্ক থাকতে হবে এবং কেবল সুন্দর দেখাচ্ছে বা ভালো শোনাচ্ছে বলে সবকিছু বিশ্বাস করা উচিত নয়।

এই প্রবাদটি আমাদের শেখায় যে কেবল বাহ্যিক চেহারা দেখে জিনিস বা মানুষকে বিচার করা উচিত নয়। সিদ্ধান্ত নেওয়ার আগে আমাদের আসল সত্য বোঝার জন্য সময় নেওয়া উচিত। অনেক সময়, সহজ এবং সরল কিছু চকচকে এবং জোরে কিছুই চেয়ে বেশি মূল্যবান হতে পারে।

আজকের পৃথিবীতে, যেখানে লোকেরা প্রায়শই চেহারা, অর্থ এবং খ্যাতির বিষয়ে খুব বেশি চিন্তা করে, এই বাতীটি খুবই গুরুত্বপূর্ণ। প্রকৃত সৌন্দর্য ভেতর থেকে আসে - সততা, দয়া এবং ভালো চরিত্র থেকে।

পরিশেষে, "যা কিছু চকচকে হয় তা সোনা নয়" আমাদের গভীরভাবে দেখতে এবং বিজ্ঞতার সাথে চিন্তা করতে বলে। যা কিছু জ্বলে ওঠে তা মূল্যবান নয়, এবং যা কিছু মূল্যবান তাও জ্বলতে হবে না।

11. Many hands make light work

The proverb “Many hands make light work” means that when many people help with a task, it becomes easier and faster to complete. If one person tries to do everything alone, it takes more time and effort. But when a group works together, the work is shared, and no one feels too tired or stressed.

This saying is true in daily life. For example, cleaning a room may take one person an hour, but if four people do it together, it might be done in 15 minutes. In school, group projects become easier when every student plays their part. In a family, when everyone helps with cooking, cleaning, or shopping, the home runs smoothly.

This proverb teaches us the importance of teamwork and cooperation. It shows that helping each other makes work more enjoyable and less stressful. It also builds friendship, understanding, and unity. When we work together, we can achieve bigger goals and solve problems more quickly.

In a larger sense, this idea is useful in our community, workplace, and even our country. If people come together to support each other, great things can be done. No task is too big if many people are willing to share the load.

In conclusion, “Many hands make light work” reminds us that teamwork is powerful. Helping one another makes life easier and brings people closer. So, whenever possible, we should join hands and work together.

১১. অনেক হাত হালকা কাজ করে

"অনেক হাত হালকা কাজ করে" প্রবাদটির অর্থ হল, যখন অনেক লোক কোনও কাজে সাহায্য করে, তখন কাজটি সম্পন্ন করা সহজ এবং দ্রুত হয়ে ওঠে। যদি একজন ব্যক্তি একা সবকিছু করার চেষ্টা করে, তবে আরও সময় এবং প্রচেষ্টা লাগে। কিন্তু যখন একটি দল একসাথে কাজ করে, তখন কাজটি ভাগ করে নেওয়া হয় এবং কেউ খুব বেশি ক্লান্ত বা চাপ অনুভব করে না।

এই প্রবাদটি দৈনন্দিন জীবনে সত্য। উদাহরণস্বরূপ, একটি ঘর পরিষ্কার করতে একজনের এক ঘন্টা সময় লাগতে পারে, কিন্তু যদি চারজন একসাথে এটি করে, তবে এটি 15 মিনিটের মধ্যে সম্পন্ন হতে পারে। স্কুলে, যখন প্রতিটি শিক্ষার্থী তাদের ভূমিকা পালন করে তখন দলগত প্রকল্পগুলি সহজ হয়ে যায়। একটি পরিবারে, যখন সবাই রান্না, পরিষ্কার বা কেনাকাটায় সাহায্য করে, তখন ঘরটি সুচারুভাবে চলে।

এই প্রবাদটি আমাদের দলগত কাজ এবং সহযোগিতার গুরুত্ব শেখায়। এটি দেখায় যে একে অপরকে সাহায্য করলে কাজ আরও উপভোগ্য এবং কম চাপযুক্ত হয়। এটি বন্ধুত্ব, বোঝাপড়া এবং ঐক্য গড়ে তোলে। যখন আমরা একসাথে কাজ করি, তখন আমরা বড় লক্ষ্য অর্জন করতে পারি এবং সমস্যাগুলি আরও দ্রুত সমাধান করতে পারি।

বৃহত্তর অর্থে, এই ধারণাটি আমাদের সম্প্রদায়, কর্মক্ষেত্র এবং এমনকি আমাদের দেশেও কার্যকর। যদি মানুষ একে অপরকে সমর্থন করার জন্য একত্রিত হয়, তাহলে দুর্দান্ত কাজ করা সম্ভব। যদি অনেক মানুষ ভার ভাগ করে নিতে ইচ্ছুক হয় তবে কোনও কাজই খুব বড় নয়।

পরিশেষে, "অনেক হাত হালকা কাজ করে" আমাদের মনে করিয়ে দেয় যে দলবদ্ধভাবে কাজ করা শক্তিশালী। একে অপরকে সাহায্য করা জীবনকে সহজ করে তোলে এবং মানুষকে আরও কাছে নিয়ে আসে। তাই, যখনই সম্ভব, আমাদের হাত মিলিয়ে একসাথে কাজ করা উচিত।

A rolling stone gathers no moss

The proverb "A rolling stone gathers no moss" means that a person who keeps moving or changing places, jobs, or ideas does not gather responsibilities, attachments, or achievements. Just like a stone that keeps rolling cannot grow moss, a person who does not stay in one place or stick to one goal may not build a stable life.

This saying can have both positive and negative meanings. On the negative side, if someone keeps changing their school, job, or home, they may never gain deep knowledge, success, or strong relationships. They miss the chance to grow roots and become settled. People who keep changing often start over again and again, which can stop progress.

On the other hand, some people think this saying has a good side. A "rolling stone" may not gather moss, but it also avoids being stuck. Some people enjoy adventure, learning new things, and meeting new people. They stay free from problems that come from staying in one place too long, like boredom or laziness.

This proverb teaches us to think about balance. It's good to be active and open to change, but we should also stay focused and committed when needed. Success often comes from hard work and staying with something for a long time.

In conclusion, "A rolling stone gathers no moss" reminds us to be careful about always moving. Sometimes, staying in one place helps us grow, learn, and succeed.

একটি ঘূর্ণায়মান পাথর কোনও শ্যাওলা সংগ্রহ করে না।

"একটি ঘূর্ণায়মান পাথর কোনও শ্যাওলা সংগ্রহ করে না" প্রবাদটির অর্থ হল যে ব্যক্তি ক্রমাগত নড়াচড়া করে বা স্থান, চাকরি বা ধারণা পরিবর্তন করে তার দায়িত্ব, সংযুক্তি বা অর্জন সংগ্রহ করে না। ঠিক যেমন একটি পাথর যা ঘূর্ণায়মান থাকে সে শ্যাওলা জন্মাতে পারে না, যে ব্যক্তি এক জায়গায় থাকে না বা একটি লক্ষ্যে অটল থাকে না সে স্থিতিশীল জীবন গড়ে তুলতে পারে না।

এই উক্তির ইতিবাচক এবং নেতিবাচক উভয় অর্থই থাকতে পারে। নেতিবাচক দিক হলো, যদি কেউ বারবার তাদের স্কুল, চাকরি বা বাড়ি পরিবর্তন করে, তাহলে তারা কখনও গভীর জ্ঞান, সাফল্য বা দৃঢ় সম্পর্ক অর্জন করতে পারে না। তারা শিকড় গজানোর এবং স্থায়ী হওয়ার সুযোগ হারিয়ে ফেলে। যারা পরিবর্তন করতে থাকে তারা প্রায়শই বারবার নতুন করে শুরু করে, যা অগ্রগতিকে থামাতে পারে।

অন্যদিকে, কিছু লোক মনে করে যে এই প্রবাদটির একটি ভালো দিক রয়েছে। "গড়িয়ে চলা পাথর" হয়তো শ্যাওলা সংগ্রহ করতে পারে না, তবে এটি আটকে থাকা এড়াতেও সাহায্য করে। কিছু লোক অ্যাডভেঞ্চার, নতুন জিনিস শেখা এবং নতুন লোকের সাথে দেখা করতে পছন্দ করে। তারা এক জায়গায় বেশিক্ষণ থাকার ফলে আসা সমস্যা থেকে মুক্ত থাকে, যেমন একঘেয়েমি বা অলসতা।

এই প্রবাদটি আমাদের ভারসাম্য সম্পর্কে চিন্তা করতে শেখায়। সক্রিয় এবং পরিবর্তনের জন্য উন্মুক্ত থাকা ভালো, তবে প্রয়োজনে আমাদের মনোযোগী এবং প্রতিশ্রুতিবদ্ধ থাকা উচিত। সাফল্য প্রায়শই কঠোর পরিশ্রম এবং দীর্ঘ সময় ধরে কোনও কিছুর সাথে থাকার মাধ্যমে আসে।

পরিশেষে, "গড়িয়ে থাকা পাথর শ্যাওলা সংগ্রহ করে না" আমাদের সর্বদা চলাফেরা করার বিষয়ে সতর্ক থাকার কথা মনে করিয়ে দেয়। কখনও কখনও, এক জায়গায় থাকা আমাদের বৃদ্ধি, শিখতে এবং সফল হতে সাহায্য করে।

RESPONSE PAPER

Response Paper on The Bet by Anton Chekhov

Anton Chekhov's short story The Bet explores the value of life, knowledge, and freedom. The main idea of the story is that spiritual and intellectual wealth is more valuable than money or physical comfort. The story compares two strong beliefs: one man believes that life in prison is better than death, while the other thinks death is more humane than spending years locked away. The story begins with a party where a banker and a young lawyer argue about which punishment is better—death or life imprisonment. To prove his point, the banker bets two million rubles that the lawyer cannot stay in solitary confinement for fifteen years. The lawyer accepts the challenge and lives in complete isolation. Over the years, he reads many books, studies languages, religions, and philosophy. He becomes wiser and loses interest in money and worldly pleasures. Just before the fifteen years are over, the banker is afraid of losing his fortune and decides to kill the lawyer. But he finds that the lawyer has written a note saying he no longer wants the money and will leave early to prove that he has overcome his desire for wealth.

One powerful example of the lawyer's transformation is when he gives up the two million rubles just hours before he wins the bet. This shows that he has grown spiritually and mentally. He realizes that material things are not important and that true freedom comes from knowledge and understanding.

Personally, I was surprised by the ending. At first, I thought the lawyer would take the money after suffering for so many years. But his decision made me think deeply. It taught me that sometimes we chase things like money or success, but forget what really matters—inner peace, wisdom, and purpose.

In conclusion, The Bet is a thought-provoking story that questions the value of life and material wealth. Through the characters of the banker and the lawyer, Chekhov shows how time, isolation, and deep thinking can change a person's beliefs. The story encourages us to reflect on what is truly important in life—not money, but knowledge, wisdom, and the human spirit.

Response Paper on The Happy Prince by Oscar Wilde

Main Idea:

The Happy Prince is a touching story about kindness, sacrifice, and the true meaning of happiness. It shows how true beauty and joy come from helping others, not from wealth or luxury.

Summary:

The story is about a statue called the Happy Prince, which stands on a tall column in a city. The statue is covered with gold leaves, and its eyes are bright sapphires with a large ruby on its sword-hilt. The statue looks very beautiful and is admired by everyone. But the Happy Prince is not really happy because, when he was alive, he lived a sheltered life and didn't know about the suffering of the poor people in the city.

One night, a little Swallow who was about to leave for Egypt meets the statue. The Happy Prince asks the Swallow to help him give away his gold leaves and jewels to the poor people in the city. The Swallow agrees and takes the gold and jewels to help the needy. Even though it is cold and the Swallow misses his journey, he stays with the Happy Prince to help others.

As the statue gives away all its gold and precious stones, it becomes dull and plain. Finally, the statue's lead heart breaks because it has given everything away. The Swallow dies from the cold, and the city's leaders decide to melt down the statue since it looks ugly. But the city's Mayor and Town Councillors do not understand the love and kindness behind the statue's sacrifice.

In the end, God praises the Happy Prince and the Swallow for their goodness and brings them to heaven, showing that true happiness is found in selfless love and care for others.

Example:

One example from the story is when the Happy Prince asks the Swallow to give a sapphire from his eye to a poor seamstress whose son is sick and dying. The Swallow carries out the prince's wish even though it means losing the beautiful sapphire eye. This act shows the Prince's concern for others and the Swallow's loyalty and kindness.

Personal Reaction:

I felt very moved by the story. It teaches that real happiness comes from helping others, not from material things. The Happy Prince and the Swallow show great courage and kindness by sacrificing their own beauty and comfort for the poor people. It made me think about how sometimes we forget to notice the pain of others because we are busy with our own lives. This story inspires me to be more caring and generous.

Conclusion:

The Happy Prince is a beautiful tale that reminds us to be kind and generous. It shows that true beauty lies in selflessness and love for others. Oscar Wilde's story is simple but very powerful, encouraging readers to think beyond wealth and appearance and to value the happiness that comes from helping those in need.

Response Paper on The Idea of a University by John Henry Cardinal Newman

Written in Simple Language

Main Idea:

The main idea of The Idea of a University by John Henry Cardinal Newman is that the purpose of a university is to develop the mind by teaching students how to think clearly and understand knowledge as a whole, rather than just prepare them for jobs.

Summary:

In this work, Newman explains what a true university should be. He believes that education should focus on forming a person's character and intellect, not just teaching practical or professional skills. A university is a place where different kinds of knowledge come together, and students learn how different subjects connect. He stresses the value of liberal education, especially philosophy, theology, and the arts. Newman says that a well-educated person should be able to understand ideas clearly, communicate well, and respect different viewpoints. He does not deny the importance of science or practical subjects but argues that they should be part of a larger system of education.

Example:

Newman gives the example of someone who learns only one subject, like engineering, without understanding the bigger picture. He says that such a person might be good at building machines but may not be able to think deeply about the social or moral problems their work creates. A complete education helps a person think wisely about all parts of life.

Personal Reaction:

I found this essay very meaningful, especially as a university student. Today, many students only focus on getting a job after graduation. Newman's idea reminds me that real education is not just about skills but also about learning how to think, understand the world, and become a better person. I agree with his view that education should shape the mind and soul, not just train us for work.

Conclusion:

In conclusion, John Henry Newman's The Idea of a University teaches us that true education is about more than earning money or getting a job. It is about forming a complete person who can think clearly, act wisely, and understand life in a deeper way. His ideas are still important today and give us a better understanding of what university education should really mean.

Response Paper on The Old Man and the Sea by Ernest Hemingway

Main Idea:

The main idea of The Old Man and the Sea is the struggle between man and nature, and how dignity, courage, and perseverance can make a person a true hero, even in defeat.

Summary:

Ernest Hemingway's The Old Man and the Sea is about an old Cuban fisherman named Santiago. He has gone 84 days without catching a fish, and people begin to think he is unlucky. A young boy named Manolin, who used to fish with him, still respects and cares for him. On the 85th day, Santiago sails far out into the Gulf Stream and hooks a giant marlin. The fish is extremely strong, and Santiago struggles with it for three days and nights. Finally, he manages to kill the fish and ties it to his boat. However, on his way back, sharks attack the marlin and eat it. Santiago arrives home with only the skeleton of the great fish. He is exhausted but proud of his hard fight.

Example:

One powerful example of Santiago's strength is when he says, "A man can be destroyed but not defeated." This shows that even when everything is taken from him, Santiago's spirit remains strong. He loses the fish, but he does not lose his pride or will.

Personal Reaction:

I found the story deeply inspiring. Santiago's determination and courage touched me. Even though he was old and weak, he showed more strength and hope than many young people. It reminded me that we should not give up easily in life, even when things seem impossible.

Conclusion:

The Old Man and the Sea teaches an important lesson about honor, endurance, and the true meaning of success. Hemingway's simple yet powerful writing style makes the story easy to read but full of deep meaning. Santiago may have lost the fish, but he won the respect of others—and the reader.

Adapted by Kazuo Ishiguro, the story asks: What would you do if you knew you didn't have much time left?

4. Plot Summary (No Spoilers)

In postwar London, the film follows Mr. Williams (Bill Nighy), a quiet man who works in a government office. He finds out he is very ill and has little time to live. As he faces his death, he begins to look for meaning in his life. With the help of a young co-worker (Aimee Lou Wood) and a new friend, he tries to do something important with the little time he has left.

5. Evaluation of the Film

- Direction: Director Oliver Hermanus uses a calm and careful style. He focuses on silence and small actions, which helps bring out the deep emotions of the story.
- Acting: Bill Nighy gives an outstanding performance, showing strong emotions with very few words. Aimee Lou Wood brings energy and warmth, balancing Nighy's quieter character.
- Cinematography: The cinematography by Jamie Ramsay uses dull, gray colors to show the dullness of Mr. Williams's life at work. However, there are moments of color that show the changes happening in his life.
- Sound & Music: The music by Emilie Levienaise-Farrouch is soft and gentle, adding to the movie's calm, reflective tone.
- Pacing: The movie moves slowly, giving viewers time to think. Some people might find it too slow, but the pace works well with the themes of the film.

6. Key Themes and Messages

- Mortality and Legacy: The movie explores facing death and trying to make a small but meaningful impact before it's too late.

- Bureaucracy vs. Humanity: It shows the coldness of government work and how one person tries to bring kindness and change.
- Time and Redemption: It's about how it's never too late to find meaning in life, even through small acts.
- Symbolism: Objects like a children's playground, trains, clocks, and Mr. Williams's hat all represent change, the passage of time, and leaving a mark on the world.

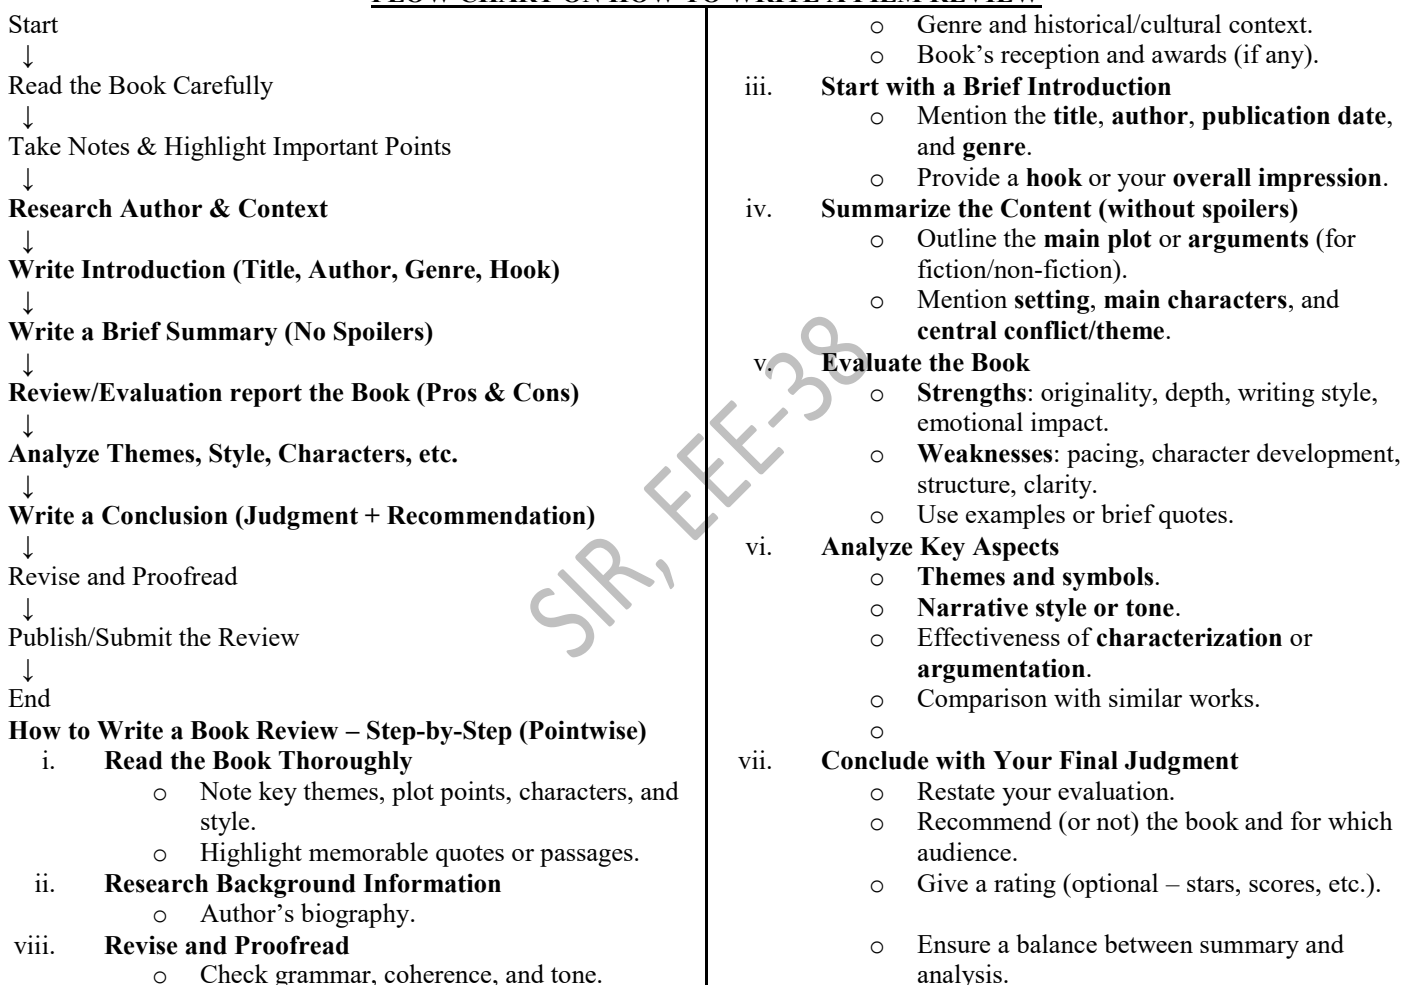

7. Overall Impact

Living is a quiet movie that makes you think deeply. It may not be loud or fast-paced, but it touches your emotions. It's a beautiful and thoughtful British drama that asks important questions about life. Fans of slow, meaningful films or Ishiguro's writing will enjoy it.

8. Final Thoughts/ Recommendation

Living is a calm, moving film with Bill Nighy's great performance and a strong script by Ishiguro. It reminds us that the meaning of life is often found in simple, small acts. It's perfect for viewers who like movies that focus on characters and emotions rather than action.

Below is a comparison between the two styles, with examples for each:

1. Citation Style:

- APA Style: In-text citations use the author-date format. The author's last name is followed by the publication year in parentheses.
 - Example (in-text):
(Smith, 2020)
- IEEE Style: In-text citations use numerical references. The citation is marked by a number in square brackets.
 - Example (in-text):
[1]

2. Reference List/Bibliography:

- APA Style: The reference list is organized alphabetically by the author's last name. Each reference includes the author's last name, initials, year of publication, title of the work, and other relevant details such as the publisher or journal name.
 - Example (book):
Smith, J. (2020). Introduction to Engineering. Cambridge University Press.
 - Example (journal article):
Smith, J., & Jones, M. (2020). "Impact of AI on society." Journal of Modern Technology, 35(4), 112-123.
<https://doi.org/10.1016/j.jmt.2020.05.001>
- IEEE Style: The reference list is organized numerically, in the order in which sources are cited in the text. Each reference includes the author's initials, last name, title, journal or book name, volume, issue number, page numbers, and year of publication.
 - Example (book):
[1] J. Smith, Introduction to Engineering, Cambridge University Press, 2020.
 - Example (journal article):
[2] J. Smith and M. Jones, "Impact of AI on society," Journal of Modern Technology, vol. 35, no. 4, pp. 112-123, 2020.

3. Formatting of Author Names:

- APA Style: The author's last name is followed by their initials. Use an ampersand (&) before the last author when there are multiple authors.
 - Example (multiple authors):
Smith, J., & Jones, M. (2020). Title of the Book. Publisher.
- IEEE Style: The author's initials are placed before their last name, with commas separating multiple authors.
 - Example (multiple authors):
J. Smith and M. Jones, Title of the Book, Publisher, 2020.

4. Date of Publication:

- APA Style: The date of publication is placed in parentheses immediately after the author's name.
 - Example:
Smith, J. (2020). Introduction to Engineering. Cambridge University Press.
- IEEE Style: The year of publication comes at the end of the reference, after all other details.
 - Example:
J. Smith, Introduction to Engineering, Cambridge University Press, 2020.

5. Titles:

- APA Style: Titles of books and articles are italicized, and only the first word of the title and subtitle (if applicable) and proper nouns are capitalized.
 - Example:

Subject: Incidental Report – Security Breach in Design Prototype Access (May 25, 2025)

Incident Overview

On May 25, 2025, at approximately 3:45 PM PST, unauthorized access to a confidential design prototype file was detected within the internal Google Drive system used by the UX Design Team in the Google Workspace project. The breach was flagged by an automated security alert triggered by file-sharing permissions being altered externally.

Time, Date & Location

- Date of Incident: May 25, 2025
- Time: 3:45 PM PST
- Location: Google HQ (Remote File Access from IP traced to Germany)

If it shows several years (2021, 2022, 2023), write about ALL of them; if it is about men and women, write about BOTH. Don't throw information away: just select what's important, and then organize, compare and contrast it. In case of comparison & contrast or increase & decrease, analyze the first state & last state or the trends in the highest & lowest group or analyze the lowest point and the highest point. Use linking words and a range of vocabulary to describe what you see in the charts. (You can write % or percent, but be consistent.)

A Graph Sample

The charts below show the reasons why people travel to work by bicycle or by car in the UK. Summarize the information by selecting and reporting the main features, and make comparisons where relevant.

Sample Answer

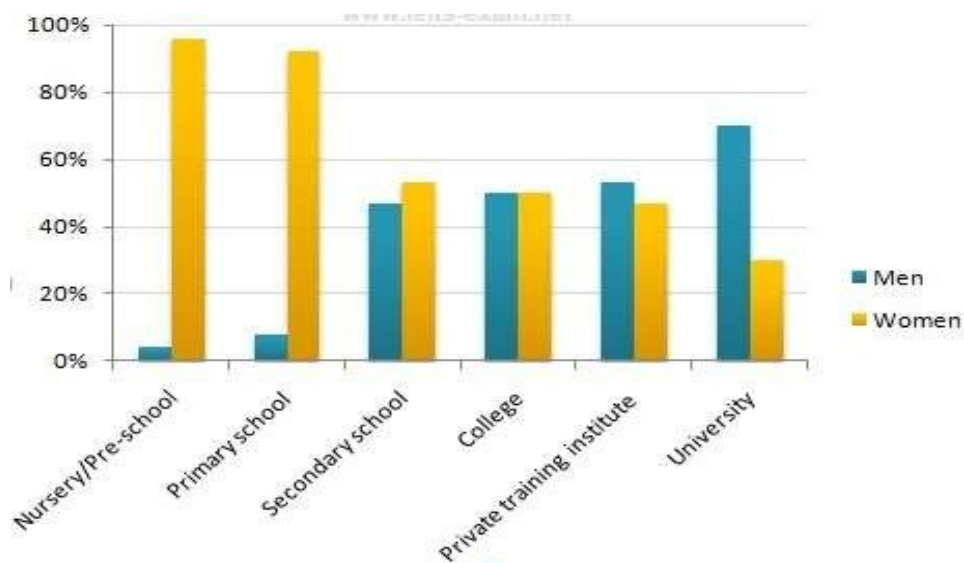

The first chart shows the reasons why some people in the UK prefer to cycle to work. Conversely, the second chart gives reasons for those who choose to go to work by car.

The highest number of the employees who favour cycling report that this is because riding a bicycle to work is healthier than driving. 30% of them show this as a reason. A similar percentage of people (30%) say that they cycle to work because it causes less pollution. 13% of people cycle to work because it is cheaper than driving. Surprisingly, a similar percentage of people claims that they cycle to work because it is faster than travelling by car. In contrast to this, the percentage who prefer to travel by car because it is more comfortable is 40%. The two least important reasons for going to work by car are that people need to carry things to work (14%) and that it is safer than cycling to work (11%). Finally, 16% opine that they prefer driving because it is faster than cycling. This contrasts with the cyclists who ride to work because it is faster than driving.

In general, it seems that most people who cycle to work do this for health and environmental reasons. By contrast, those who travel by car want to have a more comfortable journey over longer distances.

A Bar Graph Description Exercise

The bar chart below shows the percentage of male and female teachers in six different types of educational setting in the UK in 2018. Fill in the blanks of the description of this chart with suitable words from the box.

secondary, outnumbered, percentage, reverse, female, twice, proportions, institutions, higher, information, primary, dominated

The bar chart gives i) _____ about the gender of teachers in six types of educational ii) _____ in the UK in 2018. It shows what iii) _____ of teachers was male and what percentage was female.

Women iv) _____ the teaching profession in primary education, but less so at lower and upper v) _____ education. It was particularly true of nursery school, where the share of vi) _____ teachers was above 95%. Similarly one-sided was the situation in vii) _____ school, where over 90% of teachers were also female. At secondary and upper secondary level this pattern was less pronounced, where there were nearly equal viii) _____ of male and female teachers. On the other hand, male teachers ix) _____ female teachers in tertiary level education, where the proportion of men (70%) was more than x) _____ the percentage of women (30%).

Overall, the xi) _____ the level of education, the more male teachers dominated, and the xii) _____ occurred with respect to female teachers.

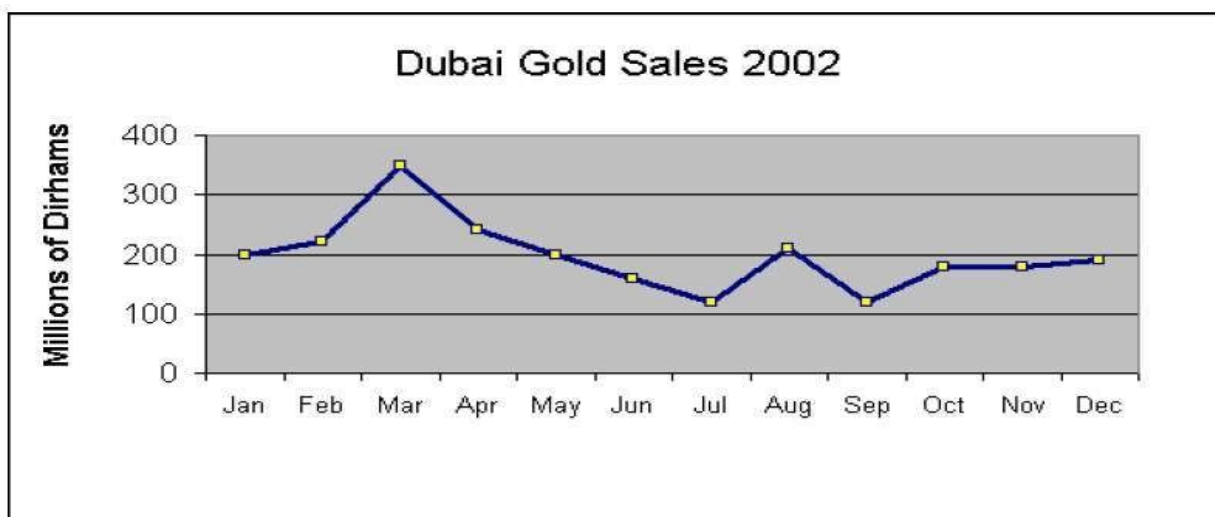

Use of Tenses

Mind the correct use of tenses when describing a chart. If the chart deals with facts in the present, use the Simple Present, if the facts are the past, then use the Simple Past. If there is a connection between the past and the present, use the Present Perfect.

Another Exercise

Look at the single line graph below and fill in the blanks with the given words. The report only shows the body paragraph, i.e. the introduction and concluding paragraphs are missing. After filling in the blanks, write how the introduction and conclusion should look like.

Fill in the correct word

MEMOIR WRITING

A memoir (স্মৃতিকথা) is a personal, reflective narrative that focuses on a specific event, period, or theme from the writer's life. Unlike a full autobiography, a memoir is more focused, emotional, and insight-driven than merely factual.

Structure of a Memoir (5 Key Parts)1. Introduction / Opening Scene

- Set the scene: Where and when is this taking place?
- Introduce the central experience or conflict.
- Establish the tone: emotional, serious, nostalgic, angry, etc.
- Create curiosity — give readers a reason to continue.

Example: "It was the July heat of 2024, and the air on campus was thick with something stronger than humidity: tension."

2. Context / Background

- Briefly explain the background leading up to the event.
- Introduce important characters, settings, and circumstances.
- Avoid heavy exposition — use relevant and concise information.

3. The Main Event or Experience

- Describe the central event or experience in vivid detail.
- Use sensory language and emotionally charged narration.
- Highlight turning points and your reactions.

Use of "I" is essential — this is a personal account.

4. Reflection and Insight

- What did this experience teach you?
- How did it change your view, identity, or beliefs?
- Don't moralize; instead, offer honest introspection.

5. Conclusion / Ending Note

- Provide closure: show emotional or mental growth.
- Leave the reader with a thought-provoking insight, a powerful image, or a lingering question.
- Connect the personal to the universal (others may relate).

Memoir Writing GuidelinesDo's:

- Write in first-person ("I" voice).
- Stay truthful to your experience, even if selective.

Memoir: July Flames – A Student's Account of the 2024 Uprising

The July of 2024 will forever be etched in my memory — not as a month of ordinary monsoon rains, but of defiance, pain, and hope. We, the students, had finally reached a breaking point under the weight of authoritarian rule. Years of silencing dissent, controlling institutions, and denying us our democratic voice culminated in one collective roar across campuses and cities.

I remember the first day vividly. Rumors had been circulating on social media about mobilizations at Dhaka University, and by midday, the campus was swarming with flags, placards, and chants for justice. What began as a protest against rising tuition fees and political suppression quickly transformed into a nationwide call for the restoration of democratic rights. We were no longer afraid.

The regime's response was swift and brutal — water cannons, rubber bullets, and mass arrests. But the more they tried to crush us, the more united we became. From Chattogram to Rajshahi, students took to the streets in solidarity, chanting for change, singing songs of resistance, and demanding accountability.

What struck me most was the courage of ordinary students — the ones who had never spoken up before, now standing firm at the frontlines. For the first time, we saw ourselves not as victims of politics, but as agents of transformation.

Though the outcome remains uncertain, July 2024 taught us the true meaning of unity and resistance. It was the month we found our voice — loud, uncompromising, and impossible to ignore.

Sample Travelogue: "A Weekend in Cox's Bazar"

Title: Waves, Wind, and Wonders: My Weekend in Cox's Bazar

Last December, I finally ticked off a long-awaited destination from my travel bucket list — Cox's Bazar, the world's longest natural sea beach in Bangladesh. I had always dreamed of walking along the endless stretch of sand, listening to the soothing sound of crashing waves. The trip was planned as a quick getaway with my two college friends, and it turned out to be a journey filled with laughter, surprises, and moments of pure peace.

We left Dhaka on a Thursday night by sleeper bus. The overnight ride was tiring but exciting. When we reached the town early Friday morning, the salty breeze and golden sunrise over the Bay of Bengal immediately made the fatigue vanish.

Our hotel had a sea-facing balcony, and I couldn't stop staring at the waves dancing under the morning sun. After breakfast, we set out to explore Laboni Point, where fishermen were preparing their nets and children played barefoot in the sand. Later, we hired a rickshaw to visit Himchari, a green hill area with a waterfall, and took countless photos from the top.

The second day was even more thrilling. We visited Inani Beach, where the water was clearer, and the stones had a strange charm. We collected shells, played beach volleyball with some friendly tourists, and devoured fresh seafood at a roadside stall. The grilled prawns were the highlight of the trip!

What made this trip special was not just the beauty of the place but the simplicity of life we observed. Watching the sunset with my feet buried in the cool sand reminded me of how small we are in this vast, beautiful world.

As we boarded the bus back to Dhaka, I realized I had not just visited a beach — I had collected a memory, a moment of stillness that would stay with me forever. Cox's Bazar is not just a place, it's a feeling. And I can't wait to return.

NON-FINITE VERB

✓ Definition of Non-Finite Verb:

A non-finite verb is a verb that does not show tense, number, or person. It cannot act as the main verb of a sentence. Instead, it functions like a noun, adjective, or adverb.

🔍 Types of Non-Finite Verbs:

3. ✓ Infinitives = to + verb

She wants to dance. "to dance" is non-finite (used as object)

4. ✓ Gerunds = verb + ing (used as noun)

- Swimming* is fun. "Swimming" = noun → non-finite

5. ✓ Participles = verb + ing or past form (used as adjective)

- The fallen leaves covered the ground.* The crying baby needs milk.

6. ⚠ Don't confuse participles with continuous tenses!

He is running → finite (main verb in present continuous) The boy running is my brother → non-finite (participle)

7. 🧐 Check their function

- If the verb is acting as a noun, adjective, or adverb → it's non-finite

COHESION AND COHERENCE

✦ Cohesion

Cohesion refers to how well the sentences and parts of a text stick together using linking words, pronouns, conjunctions, and repeated or related ideas. It's like glue that connects sentences grammatically and lexically.

Examples of cohesive devices:

- Pronouns (he, she, it, they)
- Conjunctions (and, but, because, although)
- Linking adverbs (therefore, however, then, finally)
- Repetition or synonym use

✦ Coherence

Coherence refers to how logically and clearly ideas flow in writing. It helps the reader understand the main idea easily. A coherent paragraph has a clear structure: topic sentence, supporting ideas, and a logical order.

✦ In short:

- Cohesion = connection of sentences using language tools.
- Coherence = connection of ideas in a logical and meaningful way.

✦ Tips for Cohesion

1. Use linking words and phrases (and, but, because, therefore, however) to connect sentences smoothly.
2. Repeat key words or use synonyms to maintain focus without sounding repetitive.
3. Use pronouns (he, she, it, they) to refer back to previously mentioned subjects, avoiding repetition.
4. Employ transition signals to show order (first, then, finally), cause (because, since), contrast (although, however), and addition (also, furthermore).
5. Make sure sentences are grammatically connected so ideas don't feel isolated.

✦ Tips for Coherence

1. Plan your ideas logically before writing—start with a clear topic sentence.
2. Group related ideas together in paragraphs.
3. Follow a clear structure: introduction, body (supporting details), and conclusion.
4. Keep your writing focused on one main idea per paragraph.
5. Use examples and explanations to clarify your points.
6. Ensure smooth flow by ordering ideas naturally—chronologically, from general to specific, or cause-effect.
7. Avoid sudden topic jumps that confuse the reader.

Bonus:

Reread and revise your writing to check if sentences link well and ideas flow clearly.
